Easter Week-End Ferry Service

The Public Works department has informed the Kelowna Board of Trade that it will operate three ferries during Easter week-end. The department must be congratulated on its decision.

During the past two or three years, the long holiday week-ends which come in the spring have found one of the three ferries incapacitated due to overhauling. The result has been that there has been some congestion and the public has found it difficult to understand why one vessel was out of service at a time when it was known that traffic would be heavy.

The department apparently has rearranged its overhauling schedule to permit the three vessels to be in operation over the Easter week-end. The next week-end holiday occurs on May 24th, which this year falls on a Saturday, and it is to be presumed, the department by that time will have its three vessels again in operation.

The new procedure will eliminate a lot of "beefing" about the ferry service, as with the three vessels running, the travelling public will appreciate that every effort is being made to expedite the handling of all traffic.

Taxes On Provincial Property

In Ontario the provincial government has taken a step which is long overdue and one which should be followed in all the other provinces. Henceforth in Ontario the municipalities will receive from the province tax payments for the property owned by the province within the municipal boundaries.

The move is obviously a fair one. Why should the provincial property within municipal boundaries not pay taxes? Why should the municipality be forced to service that property with roads, sewers, garbage collections and all other necessary municipal services without some return. At long last in Ontario, at least, the justice of the municipalities' claims has been admitted and henceforth the province will pay taxes on its property.

Such a step should be adopted in British Columbia as well.

Social Security Cost

Hon. Paul Martin, Federal Minister of Health, in an address at Rochester, N.Y., recently, related that Canadian governments and voluntary agencies would spend $1,330,000,000 on social security during 1952, which he compared with the outlay of only $15,000,000 for the same purpose in 1913.

Of the total outlay the Federal Government will take care of the lion's share, well over $1,000,000,000. Family allowances and old age pensions will account for considerably more than one-half of this staggering total. Mr. Martin was naturally taking credit for his government's social security legislation in the postwar years, but at the same time he candidly admitted there was no secret formula for paying for social security. He is quoted: "It must be paid out of production. Over-emphasis on social security can impose crippling burdens on the nation's economy."

This is quite an admission for Mr. Martin who has seemed to enjoy doling out billions from the public exchequer without thought of where it is coming or of the oppressive nature of the financial burden imposed upon the nation's industry and business. Not satisfied with the lavish outlay for family allowances and old age pensions, to say nothing of the more than one-half billion dollars amassed in the unemployment insurance fund, Mr. Martin is now planning a national health program that would dwarf all previous social security measures in the magnitude of the financial outlay required.

Actually Mr. Martin makes his fellow minister, Finance Minister Abbott, look like a piker when it comes to tossing around public monies. How he can continue to justify his policy of handouts to everyone in the light of the "crippling burden" already placed upon the nation's economy is more than we can understand. Already the wheels of business have been slowed by the extortionate taxation. Personal and corporation income taxes have exceeded the limits of the taxpayers' ability to pay. It is little wonder that consumer demand has dried up. Unless Finance Minister Abbott calls a halt to the wanton extravagance of the Health Minister, Canada will soon be confronted with a financial crisis of the first magnitude.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE

Ice Carnival Spectators Amazed at Local Talent

REPEAT performance of the Kelowna Figure Skating Club's Ice Frolic will be given tomorrow night at Memorial Arena, at 8:00 p.m. During the intermission, the Kelowna Packers will be presented with the Willoughby Trophy, emblematic of the championship of the O.S.A.I.L.

It has also been revealed that Miss Lois Hardy, who due to sudden illness was confined to hospital and unable to skate in last Saturday night's performance, has now sufficiently recovered to take her place as one of the solo stars. Miss Hardy is a professional with the club, and did much of the choreography and direction for this third annual event.

Under the direction of Miss Hardy and Mrs. N. Van der Vliet, more than 100 skaters performed in a show which would rival a review from the larger centers. The audience of over 800 appreciated the home-grown talent, and many were amazed that the local club should have made such strides in its short three years of operating.

Guest solo artist was Bob Clovis, comedian skater from Spokane, who thrilled the audience with his performance on skis. His previous comedy solo number, "Man About Town," was a rib-tickling event, but the top of the evening's entertainment ladder was reached with his almost-impossible-to-believe execution of a silver-bladed skis, on which he sped and glided just as if they were beginner's bobskates.

Talented Joyce Reinhold also starred as solo skater, and her "Dancing Doll" number was delightful. A popular member of the club, Miss Reinhold was a pretty picture in white and her skating was well done.

The first item was "The Syncopated Clock," featuring Anne Henderson, Joyce Reinhold, Mirjorie Walker, Christel Wasmuth, Joan (Turn to Page 5, Story 2)

Wenatchee Apple Blossom Royal Party On Goodwill Tour of Okanagan Valley

Wenatchee Apple Blossom Royal Party, headed by Queen Virginia Click, 17-year-old Wenatchee High School student, will arrive in Kelowna Monday evening during the course of a goodwill visit.

Accompanying Queen Click will be her two princesses, Princess Jeannette Bommer and Princess Ann Marie Ware, as well as Mrs. Harley Bryant, chaperone and Erwin Jones, tour chairman.

During their brief stay in the city, the party will be entertained by the Kelowna Board of Trade at a dinner on Monday evening, while the following day they will take in the Ogopogo bonspiel, Rotary Club luncheon, and in the evening attend the Gyro Club dinner meeting.

Purpose of the Okanagan Valley tour is to publicize the Wenatchee State Apple Blossom Festival which will be held May 1, 2 and 3. The three-day salute to Washington's $100,000,000 apple industry begins at 7:40 p.m. May 1 with the beautiful pageantry of the coronation of the Apple Blossom Queen. Lady-of-the-Lake Faye Weeks, accompanied by several representatives of the Kelowna Board of Trade, will take part in the pageant.

More than 50 floats, together with marching bands, drill teams and mounted police units, combine to make the Grand Parade a thrilling experience and rank it among the top ten big parades staged annually throughout the United States.

The festival attracts 100,000 people annually. The festival queen and her two attendants are selected from the top ten senior girls as rated on scholarship, attractiveness and general poise. Her court of 50 princesses, chosen on a similar basis, represent communities throughout Washington State and from British Columbia. The festival is held annually the first Saturday in May and the two preceding days.

Banquet, Dance Will Honor Hockey Team

KELOWNA Packers, B.C.'s wonder team of the 1951-52 senior hockey season, will be the center of attraction this week-end at three separate functions.

Friday, during the re-staging of the annual Ice Frolic of the Kelowna Figure Skating Club, they will be publicly presented with the Willoughby Trophy, emblematic of the Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League championship.

Saturday is recognition night for the players. They will be guests at a reception and banquet at the Orchard City Social Club, to be followed by a public dance at Canadian Legion Hall at 9:00 p.m.

Owing to limited accommodation, attendance at the former has to be restricted, but the dance, billed as the "Willoughby Trophy Dance," is open to anyone who cares to attend. Admission is a dollar.

The Booster Club is organizing the reception-banquet while the Kelowna Senior Hockey Association is handling the arrangements for the dance.

For the past ten weeks, Gordon Stanton has been conducting the public speaking course in the city. The class consists of young people from every walk of life in Kelowna and district, and has been an unqualified success.

Friday night's session will be a competitive one, each student presenting a paper.

Brother of Local Man Wins Top Honors For Artistic Creations in Culinary Art

These inspired creations, all imaginatively executed in sugar, almond paste and vegetable coloring, were recently shown at the annual salon of Culinary Art in New York City. Top honors were won by Cunard chefs. One of these is Frank Dumbleton, a brother of William Dumbleton, R.R. 4, Kelowna.

The Cunard Line's confectioners won two first prizes and the felicitations of the jury for decorative work and originality.

Mr. Dumbleton, chief confectioner of the Mauretania, hand-modeled the marzipan flowers in their royal icing basket, shown at the left of the accompanying photograph.

This impressive showing at the 83rd Annual Salon of Culinary Art, drew plaudits from all who attended. The life-like floral bouquets, in glorious color, the rustic, patriotically-colored scroll, held viewers spellbound.

Reginald Guest, chief confectioner of the Queen Elizabeth, fashioned a 50-pound replica of the majestic luxury liner. This masterpiece was also responsible for Cunard chefs winning the awards.

As for the Mauretania, no replica was made. It is at present cruising in the Caribbean.

Undoubtedly, chief confectioner Frank Dumbleton is enjoying every minute of it, perhaps taking time out to plunge into the sun-drenched, open air swimming pool.

He joined the White Star Line when he was sixteen and remained with the company when it amalgamated with Cunard. Until the beginning of the last war, chef Dumbleton served on the palatial liner Queen Mary. Afterwards he was transferred to the Aquitania. He has also served on the world's largest liner, the Queen Elizabeth.

PLAN REUNION
Brother William, who operates a thriving dairy farm in the Kelowna district, close to Kelowna, is planning a trip to Antree, Liverpool, this fall. He is looking forward to the reunion with his brother there. Bill Dumbleton is a poor correspondent. He generally gets other people to write or reply to letters. But he loves hearing from celebrated chef Frank.

Trustees Agree to Chop 1952 School Estimates by $33,000

MSA FIGURES ARE APPROVED

City Council Monday night formally approved the revised figures of the Medical Services Association group insurance plan.

The city pays a portion of the MSA scheme, and under revised rates, the increase will cost the city $318.04.

Ald. Jack Treadgold expressed the opinion that in debating wage agreements in the future, the MSA should be taken into consideration. He pointed out that the increase will cost the city more money, and that city employees are apt to take the MSA for granted, whereas the group insurance plan should be considered when wage boosts are discussed.

"Spirit of Compromise" Board Maintains

RESOLUTELY maintaining their 1952 estimates are not excessive, trustees of Kelowna School District 23 last night agreed, "in a spirit of compromise," to a $33,000 reduction as suggested by the three-man board, arbitrating differences between the school board on the one hand and the City of Kelowna and Municipality of Glenmore on the other.

Most of last night's school board meeting was taken up with discussions over the disputed estimates. Trustees made it clear that in giving in to the request for a $33,000 reduction there was no admission that the estimates were out of line. (See previous story on Page 1, second section.)

The 1952 school estimates originally totalled $511,655.36, of which Kelowna's share was $256,031.89, 50.21 per cent of the total budget. The city's share was an increase of $42,783.05 over last year.

The budget was rejected by City Council, aldermen taking the stand that certain capital expenditures should be deleted.

In moving acceptance of the arbitration board's suggestion, Trustee H. A. Truswell claimed City Council was unfair in demanding a reduction inasmuch as 95 per cent of the increase in the estimates was due to enforced salary boosts.

Chairman G. C. Hume told the board it was his impression that the arbitration board did not think that the arbitrated board was acting "irregularly" in that its purpose was to hand down a ruling as arbitrators and not conciliate.

Mayor J. J. Ladd had little comment to make on the school board's action other than pointing out that the City Council had not been officially requested by the arbitration board to agree to a $33,000 reduction. He opined that the arbitration board was acting "irregularly" in that its purpose was to hand down a ruling as arbitrators and not conciliate.

"We'll abide by any ruling but any reduction has to represent a saving of 50 per cent to the city, because that's the portion paid by the city in the school district's costs," said Mayor Ladd. This could mean that City Council would not agree to the reduction as agreed upon by the Board of School Trustees last night.

the school board's estimates were excessive, "but I still can't explain why it is suggesting this $33,000 reduction."

After it was pointed out that Ivor Newman, representing the trustees, arbitrating board, had probably already committed himself as in agreement of a $33,000 reduction, an extra "G" can make a whale of a difference as readers following the dispute over the school board's estimates will find on page one of the second section in the second column, under subhead "MAY GET MORE MONEY," a typographical error has a sum to come to the city this year as $91,600. This should read $91,600.

Lake at All-Time Low

Level of Okanagan Lake is at an all-time low. According to records kept by the City of Kelowna, this morning's lake level was 99.06 feet.

While a serious trouble is being experienced by the railway companies in operation of barges, officials this morning stated if the lake drops much lower, some tugs will have to be docked until the start of the spring freshets.

A spokesman for the CFR said the "Okanagan" was unable to dock at Greata Ranch, while depth of water at Naramata is also shallow.

Every log at the Penticton dam has been removed, it is understood, and the discharge rate will not be decreased until the Okanagan River starts flooding.

At this time last year, the lake level was 99.33 feet. Agreed minimum is 99.50 and agreed maximum 102.50.

City Levies Garbage Fee 50¢ Month

The high cost of living has even affected the garbage collection service.

Faced with higher maintenance costs and increased wages, City Council Monday night reluctantly slapped a 50 cent a month garbage collection fee against all home owners and apartment house occupants. The amendment to the garbage collection bylaw was given first three readings and will become effective April 1.

City anticipates an additional $1,000 a month revenue. Residents will be permitted to put out two cans of garbage weekly. The fee will be added to the monthly electric light and water bill.

Ald. Dick Parkinson said the matter had been discussed for several years, but costs had risen to the point where council has no other alternative.

Ald. Jackson said the additional revenue will result in the garbage collection department, "just about breaking even."

In the past the deficit has been audited by landowners. Under the new plan, occupants of apartment houses will pay their share, Mr. Parkinson added.

LADD ELECTED ON COMMITTEE

Mayor J. J. Ladd has been named on a committee to make arrangements for the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities which meets in Vernon next fall.

Mr. Ladd explained that this major cities in the Okanagan will be hosts to the UBCM delegates, and that Kelowna may have to pay its share of parley expenses.

Many Rinks In Ogo 'Spiel

With the deadline for entries less than 48 hours away, local rinks are being urged to submit names for the fourth annual Ogopogo Bonspiel, due to get under way next Tuesday in the Kelowna Curling Club's new four-sheet rink.

To date there are 40 rinks entered, officials disclosed, with half of being urged to submit names for the fourth annual Ogopogo Bonspiel, due to get under way next Tuesday in the Kelowna Curling Club's new four-sheet rink.

Officials disclosed, with half of being urged to submit names for the fourth annual Ogopogo Bonspiel, due to get under way next Tuesday in the Kelowna Curling Club's new four-sheet rink.

Present plans are to run the bonspiel three days, winding it up Thursday night (April 3) but if sufficient entries warrant, it the bonspiel can be run over until Friday.

As in previous years there will be five major events, but winners this time will hold for a year two prizes over and above the usual Lassic Trophy has been replaced with a larger and more attractive one, and the Henry Cretin Memorial Trophy will be awarded for the first time.

The latter, donated by the widow of Henry Cretin, an accident victim who died last year, replaces the old and battered Royal Hotel Cup.

Winner of the Highland Lassie main event last year was the Scotty Ross rink of Trail, skippered by Roy Stone, brother of the current B.C. champion, Reg Stone of Trail, manager of Cominco Arena.

10% OF APPLE CROP ON HAND

Only around ten percent of the 1951 apple crop is on hand, A. K. Loyd, general manager, Treo Fruits, said this morning. This represents between 50,000 and 60,000 boxes. Most of the apples on hand are Winesaps and these are moving out steadily.

Mr. Loyd said domestic markets are firm, and there should be little trouble in getting rid of the balance of the crop.

Sale Of Royal Anne For $167,000 May Be Okayed By Shareholders Friday

SALE of the Royal Anne Hotel for $167,500 is expected to be ratified at a meeting of Kelowna Community Hotel Co. Ltd. shareholders tomorrow afternoon.

Purchasers are Norman Taylor, of Princeton, and N. M. Armstrong, of Penticton. New owners will take over on April 1.

The Royal Anne, a familiar landmark in Kelowna, was opened in 1929 after a group of local citizens formed a syndicate to buy and renovate the old Palace Hotel.

Extensive renovations are planned by the new owners, although the English gable appearance of the hotel will remain the same. A coffee shop on the main floor is planned, and if and when the suitable time arrives, an additional 25 rooms will be provided in an annex which would be constructed on Mill Avenue, which is also owned by the hotel. A connecting link between the hotel and the annex would be made through the construction of an overhead passageway above the lane. Interior of the hotel will be redecorated. No change is contemplated in the present management.

William Dumbleton came to Kelowna from Waseca, Saskatchewan, six years ago.

ACCEPT TENDER OF INSURING FIRE FIGHTERS

City Council formally accepted the tender of Whillies Insurance Agency of $38.28 per member for insuring members of the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Department against accident and sickness. The policy would run for three years.

Based on a membership of 32, the cost to the city would be $1,224.96, with an annual premium of $408.32.

Hawks, Tigers Win Minor Puck Crowns

Crowning of two champions came during Minor Hockey Night Tuesday. The Tigers received their reward for capturing the midget hockey league championship while the Black Hawks went the emblem of supremacy in the bantam ranks.

Both winners gained their laurels by victories that night, triumphs that meant clean sweeps in their respective playoffs.

A four-goal spurge in the final period sewed up a 7-3 verdict for the Tigers over the Beavers to give them the final in two straight. The series was cut down from an original five-games to three games due to the sudden decision to shut down the arena this Sunday.

Captain Jack Howard, who subsequently accepted the championship Capozzi Trophy from Jack Krassman, Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association president, paced the Tigers with two goals and three assists. Wayne Hicks and Knorr also got two goals each with Warren Hicks getting the other marker.

Beavers' goals all came in the third period but the closest they got was 3-1 early in the finale. Beaver marksmen were Fischer, Bennett and Matsuda.

HAWKS 7, RANGERS 5
Black Hawks scored seven goals as they wrapped up the best-of-five final for the bantam crown in three straight over the Rangers—and the league's scoring champ, Dennis Casey, figured in all seven, scoring six of them.

Glen Delcourt of the Rangers also was in a spectacular individual performance, notching four of their five goals, three of them unassisted. After the game, the Kiwanis Trophy, awarded annually to the bantam winners, was presented to Captain Roger Cottle by R. M. Johnston, president of the Kiwanis Club.

A final presentation saw Eaton gift certificates presented by Eaton.

KAMLOOPS HAS COY CUP FOR FIRST TIME

Kamloops, denied a senior hockey championship by the Kelowna Packers, has the Coy Cup today, thanks to the play of the Kamloops Loggers.

They downed Trail 6-5 twice (Saturday and Monday) to win the provincial intermediate hockey championship (for the first time) in two straight.

Cliff Mills and Al Swaine paced the Loggers in the second game with a brace each. Herb St. Jean topped Trail snipers with a pair. Mills' second goal, coming at the 14:15 mark of the third period, broke a 5-5 deadlock to give Kamloops the victory.

Loggers will be at home as the next phase in the Western Canada playoffs begin tonight.

Most Of Packers Expected To Stay Around For Next Season

THOUGH a lot of things can change between now and next September, it appears now that most of the near-B.C. Champion Kelowna Packers will stay around to try again when the next season rolls around.

Two players have left already but these are the only ones so far who are not expected back in Kelowna's training camp. Roy McMeekin (and his wife) and Lloyd Penner started out for Winnipeg by auto early yesterday morning.

McMeekin has been placed on New Westminster Royals negotiation list and is almost a cinch to go professional next winter. Penner hinted he wanted to go back overseas where he played hockey the season before joining Kelowna.

Howie Amundrud will be a third player leaving the city, but he's done that twice before and came back to the Packers. He has a farm to work at Aylenburg, Sask.

Duration of the stay for the summer of two is doubtful at the moment. Playing-Coach Phil Hergeheimer is anxious to get his team into something permanent here in a real hurry because his temporary visa (he's an American citizen though born and raised in Winnipeg) will expire shortly.

Many plans are under consideration now for either work or a business that will allow a certain amount of time to hockey as a supplementary income.

Mike Daski is the other uncertainty. Last year he returned to Winnipeg at the end of the season, finally ending back here midway through the campaign.

Three of the players started out on jobs this week with the Provincial Department of Public Works: Bo Carlson, Stu Robertson and Joe Kaiser. Mike Durban is completing his business course and expects to get a job later.

Ken Amundrud has been working at B.C. Tree Fruits all winter. Frank Hoskins and Jim Hanson are 15th packer originals with permanent jobs with Imperial and Home oil companies respectively.

Jimmy Lowe, working most of the winter, intends to give up hockey. Frank Kelly has a sawmill job to go to as soon as he comes back from a holiday at his parents' home in Portage La Prairie. Brian Roche is anxious to stay in Kelowna but up to this writing had not found suitable work.

Ken Amundrud also is a veteran with the club, having completed his third year. He is employed by Barr and Anderson. Spare goalie Al Laface works with the city public works crew.

THUNDERBIRDS WIN JUVENILE HOCKEY TITLE

Juvenile committee of the Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association this week declared Thunderbirds as the champions of the Juvenile Hockey League.

With ice-making machines in Memorial Arena due to shut down for the next season on Sunday there was no time available to operate a playoff. Thunderbirds gained the crown by finishing on top of the league. Notre Dames were second and Legion Pats third.

The Barrie Memorial Trophy, symbol of the city and district juvenile hockey championship, will be presented to the Birds during Thursday's (tonight's) Kelowna-Penticton bantam playoff game, the first in a total-gam series for the south-central Okanagan championship.

Smokies Lose Opening Game To Edmonton

Before close to 3,000 fans, the Edmonton Pats last night grabbed the opener in their best-of-seven Western Canada Allan Cup semifinal by downing Trail Smoke Eaters 5-2 at Edmonton.

Dutchy Van Deelen paced the Alberta-Saskatchewan champs with two goals. Bob Kromm and Dick Kotanen tallied for the Smokies, B.C. titleholders.

The loss came as no great surprise to coach Gerry Thomson who said on his departure for Edmonton:

Victoria Beats Penticton For B.C. "A" Hoop Title

PENTICTON—Victoria won the provincial intermediate A basketball championship here Saturday by downing Penticton 49-37 to overcome a seven-point deficit in the first game of the total-point series, which was won by Penticton 65-58. Victoria won the round 107-102.

LORNA MAY and her black shepherd dog are heroine and hero of an episode at the farm of Bert May at Stouffville, Ont. When a bull attacked Elmer May, 12, right, his father came to the rescue, but was thrown to the ground with a broken arm. Lorna, aged nine, hearing their cries, let loose the dog, which attacked the bull and allowed the father and son to escape.

Glenmore Drama Club's Play Rated "Best Yet" and May Be Presented In Other Communities In Valley

GLENMORE—The first play and concert of the Glenmore Dramatic Club was in the auditorium of the school and was well received by some 200 who attended.

The program consisted of a junior square dance, giving a sample of what is taught at the Saturday night square dances; accordion solo by John Garte; Japanese dance by Michiko Hatanaka and Mary Lou Jensen, a dance symbolizing the flight of two sea gulls in love; piano solo, Linda Wilson; tap dance Diane Carter and Dale Tellman, accompanied by Mrs. Tellman at the piano; senior square dance; another result of the Saturday night square dance lessons; Glenmore Symphony Orchestra, composed of Miss Barbara Ritchie, Mrs. R. Caldwell, Mrs. Zeinstra, Mrs. William Short, Mr. and Mrs. Braund, Mel Barwick and Bill Pearson, all dressed as clowns and hoboos, and carrying a variety of instruments, of rattles, whistles, tambourines, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. H. Hensel; Japanese dance, Mrs. S. Hatanaka, a very lovely dance expressing happiness or joyous occasion; vocal solos, Ernie Burnett, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert, "Passing By," "Mother Macree," and "The Little Brown Bear"; Irish jig, Mrs. George Watson, accompanied by Billy Murray, with his violin.

The one-act play "Silver Nails" was directed by Caro Hawkey and was centered around the "Irish Wake of Pat O'Connor," who had made a request that he might have the biggest and loudest "wake" in Ireland. His wife, Anna, and his sister, Alice, while trying to keep down the heavy expenses of mourners and refreshments, were still determined that he should have as good a "wake" as Mr. O'Malley had with silver nails and loud crying. The result of the jealousies between the O'Connors and the O'Malleys brings about a fine comedy very appropriate for St. Patrick's Day. The cast included:

Patrick Dennis O'Connor, Jim Snowsall; Pat's wife, Anna O'Connor, Barbara Snowsall; Pat's sister, Alice O'Connor, Reba Snowsall; the doctor, Charles Henderson; Mrs. O'Malley, Caro Hawkey; Katherine O'Malley, Margaret Hume; Mr. Daley, Sam Pearson; Mrs. O'Hara, Dorothy Bennett; Mrs. O'Sullivan, Christine Henderson.

All wore costumes styled in 1900, which added greatly to the evening's entertainment. The entire program was received enthusiastically by the large audience, and many expressed the belief that much more of this sort of program would be very acceptable.

The play itself, with some of the actors having their debut to stage experience, was probably the best ever produced by the Glenmore Dramatic Group. Already plans are under way to play at one or more other centres, and possibly at the Dramatic Festival.

After the program coffee and other refreshments were served to all who wished to stay.

Mrs. Harold Long and children left last week to visit with relatives in Brandon, Man.

Allan McCormick is out of school with measles.

SMORGASBORD SUPPER RATED "OUTSTANDING"

OYAMA—Something "new" in the way of entertaining was presented here Wednesday evening of last week, when the Kalamalka Women's Institute held a smorgasbord supper.

Under the direction of Mrs. W. Chapman, home economics convenor, the ladies pooled their culinary talents to provide their guests with a most tasty repast. A small sample of each of the many varieties of dishes, resulted in a heaped plate. J. Rounce and W. Chapman, in chef's regalia, presiding over the meats, provided the right note at the head of the long table, dipping which guests made their way to help themselves to the twenty to thirty varieties of foods before joining friends at attractively-decorated tables elsewhere in the hall. Daffodils and candles made a beautiful setting for the whole affair. When all had eaten, president Mrs. D. May welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Mary Ellison who entertained with two piano selections, followed by W. Mazey who charmed the audience with his Ukrainian dance. Miss M. Rounce then rendered two well-received piano solos after which A. Gibb sang a solo from the operetta "Princess Chrysanthemum" recently produced by the Rutland Jr.-Sr. High School.

Guests then disbursed to play cards or chat with neighbors. The quilts for Greece, on display, created much interest. Mrs. F. Whipple and Mrs. A. S. Towgood demonstrated how they had been made from the old woollens collected during the winter. The evening was pronounced most successful and enjoyable by all those who attended.

Another pleasant evening was enjoyed by the guests of the P.T.A. at their card party held last Friday evening at the school. The St. Patrick's theme was used to decorate the card room and added to the pleasure of the evening. Mr. W. Allan was the winner of the door prize. Mr. A. Aldred won the prize for the highest whist score. Refreshments were served in the lunch room by members of the P.T.A.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bingham have returned from Vancouver where they were visiting their daughter.

Teachers Explain Modern Education Methods To Peachland P-TA

PEACHLAND-P-TA members listened to a panel discussion on modern educational methods at their meeting last week. A good turnout listened to the elementary teachers J. Kishneruk, Miss E. Reep and Miss J. Rees explain the present curriculum and teaching methods prior to discussion. It was stressed that education aims at making children into good citizens, and the school alone cannot attain this without the co-operation of the parents in the home, and the organizations interested in social service, such as P.T.A. groups etc. Although there is criticism of the present education system, facts do not support this criticism, according to the speakers. Children now are encouraged to express their ideas, and while this leads to the critics saying that schools are now holding them back, this is not so, except during discussion periods, or group activity on projects.

Nowadays children do not compete for standings against more brilliant students, but rather are encouraged to do the best work they can, up to their capabilities; in other words, children try to improve on their own work.

As for discipline, the teachers were of the opinion that while corporal punishment was at times necessary, it should be given sparingly, never in cases of inability to do school lessons. Discipline should be administered promptly, decisively, and without antagonism on the part of the teacher. Praise should not be forgotten when a child makes a good effort, regardless of his ability.

There has been criticism that there is not enough time spent on the "three R's", but this is not so; they still take a major portion of the time despite the fact that there are new subjects to teach in this modern age, it was stated. The new curriculum is very necessary for pupils to prepare them for life. Society requires that citizens should work together in harmony, with an exchange of ideas, and this is learned in school by pupils working in groups on projects. Following this outline on present day teaching methods and ideas, the audience participated in a discussion of discipline, report cards, methods of teaching spelling, etc.

Business of the meeting included reading of the resolutions to be dealt with at the convention next month. Also, a delegate was nominated to attend this convention. Mrs. George Topham accepted this nomination, and members expected to attend sessions this year with the convention so close at hand at Kelowna.

Ten dollars was voted to be sent to the Kelowna Council of P-TA's to aid them in the convention expenses. It was also passed that the P-TA pay for the bus fare to take the children to the Play Day to be held in Kelowna sometime in May.

Posters of Peachland community, made by the children of grades 1 to 4 were on display, and winners announced. Winners for essays of grades V and VI had not yet been judged and will be announced later.

Winners of posters: Grade 1, Frank Haker, Karen Cousins, Joan Topham.

Grade II—Frances MacNeil, Christie McLaughlin.

Grade III—Marilyn Oakes, Norman Enns, Lorraine Whinton.

Grade IV—Reggie Fulk, Jimmie Oakes.

The Ladies' Curling Club has now completed league play and have only the playoff games to finish this week. Top four trials will play a round robin to decide the winner of the league trophy. These trials are Mrs. Niel Witt, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. C. Whinton, Mrs. J. Kishneruk.

Bill Siems has left for Savory Island where he will work with his brother Eric Siems, on logging operations.

J. Wilson who is now living in Vancouver, is in the Okanagan again for the summer months. He expects Mrs. Wilson to arrive for Easter.

Kelowna and district Liberal Association is holding a general meeting in the Women's Institute Hall Monday night.

Highlight will be selection of delegates for the nominating convention to be held April 8 in the Legion hall. C. R. Bull, former MLA, consented to allow his name to stand for nomination to represent the writs in South Okanagan constituency in the next provincial election.

Kelowna Kinsmen Club has been granted permission to use a portion of the arena parking area to hold an auction sale on April 5.

Request, received by City Council Monday night, was approved by aldermen. There was some debate as to whether the council should approve the use of a P.A. system, but it was finally agreed that in view of the fact proceeds from the auction are to be used for charitable purposes of direct benefit to the city, that permission be given. It was understood the volume of the P.A. system would be restricted.

The $1,200,000 grant received by Okanagan apple growers to offset losses suffered in marketing crops in 1950, and which was formally passed by the House of Commons this week, has already been paid to growers. A. K. Loyd, president and general manager, B.C. Tree Fruits explained this morning.

The money was borrowed from the bank and was paid to growers before Christmas. Tree Fruits is now awaiting the cheque from Ottawa. Interest on the loan was "quite low" Mr. Loyd said, as day-by-day deposits of Tree Fruits whittled the loan down, with the result the interest was reduced.

Nowa Scotia growers received $300,000.

SODICA SALES JUMP $94,101 IN PAST YEAR

Increase of $94,101.12 in sales of creamery products during the past year was reported at a meeting of the board of directors of Shuswap Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative Association held in Vernon on Tuesday. Sales totalled $1,155,880.38.

President S. E. Halksworth remarked that 1951 "was our best year." There was an increase of four members, and despite adverse circumstances, volume of butterfat handled was over 900,000 pounds and within one percent of the 1951 total.

Of the $732,321.64 available for distribution to farmers, members have already been advanced $707,819.33. A special fund of $9,500 has been set up to be issued in revolving fund shares, and $15,302.31 was credited to members under the co-operative's memorandum rules.

This is the year to wear spring gaily, like a heart on your sleeve . . . to choose a stunning Easter costume . . . to brighten it with a bonnet that's brilliant as a poppy or tender as a rose. Pardon me, if I seem poetic. This is all reaction to an ah-inspiring fashion show. And, besides, I caught a glimpse of my first spring robin this morning!

A fashion scoop from Heather's! You can choose from that galaxy of pace-setting fashions, shown at the J.O.D.E. fashion show for three days only, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Then they'll be whisked off to Pentecost for a fashion show there. So don't take a chance—see them now! These fashions cast a prophetic shadow for they reflect the new trends that are slated for success. Try them on at HEATHER'S tomorrow. You've seen them on the runway—now examine them at first hand. When you do, two things will impress you most. First, the miraculous new materials. Here are fabrics that please the eye and tempt the touch. How rich they look . . . how new they look . . . how fabulous they FEEL!

Secondly, these fashions have been shrewdly picked for VALUE. Most emphasize a million dollar look for a moderate pocketbook. They give you more for your money. More style, more value sewn into every seam, more wear and mileage in every garment. Come and see for yourself at HEATHER'S.

There's a new romantic feeling at the very heart of fashion . . . a sweet, nostalgic look that hints of a bygone day. You'll see this trend throughout HEATHER'S new collection. These are romantic revivals with the charm of yesteryear. Their inspiration springs from old tin-types-old novels . . . from the Godey Book . . . Little Women . . . and most of all, from Gibson Girl sketches.

The new silhouette is alive with all the charms of femininity. Clothes are gentle, beguiling and womanly. Shoulders are softly rounded, hips and bosoms subtly accentuated, waists pared to an absolute minimum. And, to wear with them—hats that capture the heartbeat of fashion and the blithe and happy spirit of Spring. Choose these "Heirloom" fashions now at HEATHER'S. They'll conjure up many a compliment for you this spring and summer.

Next week is Beauty Week all across Canada. March 30th-April 5th, newspapers, radio, magazines will all remind you to "Take time for Beauty."

This is the time of year when you're trying on Easter bonnets, getting starry eyes over the new New Look. Suddenly, you look at yourself searchingly in the mirror and find—perhaps shockingly so—that the winter months have taken a toll on hair and complexion. But cheer up! Here's help at hand for those early spring beauty problems. For hints on first aid for dry, sallow skin and lack-lustre hair—just read on!

A sensational special at PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY brings you huge jars of luxurious face creams at miniature prices. These are two of the world's most treasured beauty aids—Tussy's "Dry Skin Treatment Cream" and Tussy's "Creamy Masque." They're acclaimed everywhere by women who ARE beautiful and who STAY beautiful. An enormous eight-ounce jar of "Dry Skin Treatment Cream"—a good buy at its regular $3.00 price—is now $1.50. The four-ounce jar of "Creamy Masque" (for wonder-working home facials) is usually $2.50, now $1.50.

"Dry Skin Treatment" is a quality conditioning cream that brings new elasticity and softness to the skin. It combats dryness, "Greasy Masque" stimulates dry or weathered skin. Don't miss this great introductory offer! Tussy products are found exclusively at PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY.

Better than a spring tonic—the lift you'll get from a new coiffure at LA VOGUE BEAUTY BAR. The girls at LA VOGUE tell me that "Back Talk" is the keynote to the new hair-dos. Attention centres at the back of the head. This is setting a new trend in hair styling. It's subtle, sometimes with more dramatic "pony tail" effects. Yes, turn your head this Easter, and people will be saying the most delightful things behind your back! The Poodle cuts are going over like wild-fire. They're so "right" for women of every age and so pet, crisp and cool for summer. And here's good news! Variety is the by-word. You can wear your hair at any length that accents your individuality. Let skilled stylists at LA VOGUE shape your hair—then give it a springy, long-lasting perm. Pick up your phone and call 32.

I'm still blushing about a mistake that found it's way into SHOP TALK. In my write-up on Eleanor Mack's sensational new skirt, I mentioned that the pleats misprinted, this is how it appeared in the column. "Pleats are sewn down to the hemline." People are still dropping in at ELEANOR MACKS to see this strange creation. Luckily, they're rewarded with a view of an ultra-new and ultra-smart skirt. It's so unique in fact, that it would not hesitate to call it "the skirt of the year." But it hasn't—it honestly hasn't—got pleats sewn down to the hemline!

Kisses for the Mrs. who pampers her man this week-end with a big tender, sizzling sirloin steak . . . or juicy Porterhouse or T-bone. It's a royal treat for the family and you don't have to squander the extra dollar fortune to do it—there's a terrific special on at SUPER-VALU. Friday and Saturday, all those mouth-watering steaks will sell at just 95¢ a pound! They've been selling all along at $1.15 and $1.19—so count the savings!

The reason? Policy at SUPER-VALU is to sell all steak while it's at its peak of perfection. When a new carcass arrives it's hung for ten days 'til it's tops in flavor and tenderness. Then it's kept in cold storage for just a limited time. If the demand for steak falls off—at it has recently—out they must go to make room for new arrivals! SUPER-VALU's loss is your gain, so take advantage of this "clearance." Like all SUPER-VALU meat, this, of course, is government inspected.

Budget tips from C.A.C. representative, Peggy Dillabough. We can anticipate a drop in the price of meat—both pork and beef—as the lifted embargo allows a limited amount of beef to trickle in from Edmonton. But there's lots of red tape to untangle and the price picture is still uncertain. It's wise to stock up on oranges and grapefruit this week-end as we can look for a big jump in price with new shipments. California carrots, on the other hand, will be "way down next week" when they're allowed in duty-free. Another good buy now—local turnips from Salmon River.

Wheel Colored margarine is here at last. The first shipment arrived Tuesday—but, as I write this—final legislation is still pending, so we may have to wait for a day or two before it goes on sale. Eggs are the very best food value at the moment, from the nutrition and price viewpoint. Last fall they went as high as 84¢ a dozen . . . now they're down to 47¢ for Grade A large. So use lots of egg dishes in your Lenten Menus. I'll be back with more news next week from Peggy.

was hostess to the members following the business session.

Under discussion was the national BPWC convention slated for Vancouver July 14 to 18 and the proposed Okanagan tour in connection with the convention; and also the local branch's hobby show to be held Saturday, May 3. Members felt that actual exhibitions of weaving, and sketching, etc., would prove interesting to the public, and it is hoped several local people will be on hand at the show to actually demonstrate their talents.

First United Church Scene Of Pretty Spring Wedding

Vancouver will be the future home of newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence William Musgrave, who were married at the United Church here on Saturday, March 22. Rev. R. S. Leitch read the early afternoon vows for the bride, Wanda Marjorie Cairns, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cairns, 850 Harvey Avenue, Kelowna, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Musgrave, of Vancouver.

Spring flowers formed an attractive setting for the ceremony in the church, at which the bride was given in marriage by her father. Traditional white satin was chosen for the bride's gown. Style features were a sweetheart neckline and lily-pointed sleeves on the fitted bodice and a full gathered skirt slightly en-train. A halo headpiece of silk net and orange blossoms held the bride's floor-length veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Clare Johnson was maid of honor. She chose a maine robe, fitted for her gown, with which she wore a matching silk net and flower headpiece styled similarly to the bride's. Her cascade bouquet was of mauve-pink tulips and narcissi. The little flower girl, Mervil Mackie, was dressed in mauve silk net over tulle in floor length style with a matching mauve head-dress, and she carried a miniature colonial bouquet.

Mr. Laurie Metcalfe, of Vancouver, acted as best man, while the bride's brother, Mr. Jim Cairns, ushered the guests, with Mr. Stanley Robinson.

Dr. Ivan Beadle played the wedding music. B.C. Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is holding a rummage sale in the Kelowna Scout Hall, Bernard Ave., on Saturday, March 29. The sale will commence at 2:00 p.m.

FOUR ENDERBY NURSES QUIT

ENDERBY — Howard Logan, chairman of Enderby Hospital Board, announced that the board had accepted the resignations of four members of the nursing staff. That action followed in the wake of a seven-day notice period, Mr. Logan said.

Notices of resignations were said by Mr. Logan to have been made after the nurses had complained to the board of directors of working conditions in the old hospital, and below-minimum wages.

The nurses who resigned were: Miss Betty Burton, R.N., Mrs. W.

Anderson, R.N., Mrs. W. Moffatt, R.N., and Miss L. M. Bingham. Amongst other demands, they asked for a raise of $35 per month. The hospital board had an interview with Miss Hoad, of Vancouver, a representative of the registered nurses association, who had also talked with the nursing staff and visited Enderby hospital.

Members of the board told the representative that while working conditions in the old hospital were admittedly somewhat difficult, the new Memorial Hospital would be opened this spring, where modern equipment has been installed, and better conditions all-round would obtain.

The board has contacted the B.C. HIS in Victoria, outlining its position. An answer is currently awaited. Reports stated that the board submitted its 1952 estimates in November to the B.C.H.S. Now, the insurance commission must agree to increased expenditure to take care of any potential boost.

Hospital matron is Miss Eleanor Dill. She did not resign.

To fill vacancies caused by the resignations, Mrs. Emily Jeffcoat, Mrs. V. Polson and Mrs. Dorothy Weir have been engaged.

The new 20-bed hospital was to have been opened early in April, but that date has been put forward. A $2,200 sterilizer will shortly be installed.

SUMMERLANDERS VOTE IN FAVOR OF NEW HALL

SUMMERLAND — Wednesday night's public meeting, attended by some 150 district residents, unanimously endorsed the proposal of the municipal council that the projected municipal hall should be financed by utilization of money in surplus in the sinking fund entirely.

Although a small percentage refrained from voting, not a single hand was raised in opposition to the proposal.

Council submitted four suggestions, but favored No. 4, that of using surplus in the sinking fund without touching any other surplus monies.

This meeting will serve as a guide to municipal council, who will probably proceed with submission of a bylaw seeking ratepayer support to this plan of erecting a new municipal office.

There were no "fireworks" at the meeting, attended by approximately 150 citizens. It was called as a public service gesture by the Summerland Board of Trade in order to acquaint citizens with council proposals relative to the hall and to hear arguments pro and con.

Last fall, ratepayers turned down, by a narrow margin, the council proposal of that time. Council now proposes to re-submit the bylaw but with a different plan of financing.

Walter M. Wright, 1952 board president, opened the meeting and turned it over to J. E. Armstrong, who had chairmanned the board committees which had planned the meeting in conjunction with the municipal council.

After introductory opening remarks by Reeve C. E. Bentley, the main council proposals were submitted by Councillor F. E. Atkinson, and many 50 found in an adjoining column.

Main point brought out by Mr. Atkinson was that there is $62,380 surplus in sinking fund which has been raised entirely by judicious buying and selling of debentures and bonds over many years. If that was used, there would still be a surplus of about $17,000 over and above sinking fund requirements.

THERE HAS BEEN SOME FREAK WEATHER in Canada and the U.S. in the past few months but the place where it has been freakiest is sunny California. This photo shows Los Angeles where many streets are covered with a foot or two of water which flooded thousands of square miles following one of the worst snow and rainstorms on record. A fashion house, to be sure it kept abreast of the weather, dressed a model as shown left. The idea is she is dressed for any change the weather man may order. She has a bathing suit and mitts; roller skates and ice skates; skis and umbrella. And, of course, a paddle.

WILL COMPLETE NEW HOSPITAL WING IN MAY

After three years of planning and building, the new wing of Kelowna General Hospital is expected to be finished in May. Chairman of the building committee, R. E. Walrod, briefly outlined the progress and extent of the building program and gave, in broad terms, an outline and description of the new facilities, of which all major essential items have been received, at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Society Wednesday afternoon.

His report follows:

"It has been twelve months since the first sod was turned. At that time it was expected that we might occupy the new structure before last Christmas. Delays caused by a strike and other factors over which both the board and the general contractor had little control have extended the date of completion by several months. It is now expected that the finished building will be turned over to us in May.

The board is satisfied that the citizens of Kelowna and district will have reason to be proud of the new hospital, both as to workmanship and design. With renovations soon to be undertaken, the old wing is being incorporated into the new structure. The completed hospital will be a compact edifice in which floor space has been utilized to best advantage, and so organized as to permit most efficient care of the patients. At the same time provision has been made for many special facilities. These will enable our medical staff to give our patients the benefit of the latest techniques in medical science.

OPERATING ROOM

On the ground floor, a complete radiological suite has been provided consisting of fourteen rooms. The operating areas in this department consist of a main radiographic room equipped with our new X-ray installation, a minor radiographic room served by our old unit and special rooms for radiotherapy, cytology and fractures. Together with the secondary areas this suite incorporates the latest features, and is designed to give widest applications of radiology. A pharmacy is provided on this floor for the storage and dispensing of drugs. Next to the new admitting office, and waiting room off the lobby at the Rose Avenue entrance is an emergency operating room. This will be kept in constant readiness to receive emergency cases on a moment's notice.

The laboratory area consists of four rooms including a bacteriology laboratory. A room has been set aside for a pathologist in this group but this has been temporarily assigned to B.M.R. and cardiograph. Other areas on the ground floor of the new wing accommodate a morgue, autopsy and physiotherapy rooms, and a combination doctor's lounge, library and board room. The old wing section will be taken up largely by administrative offices and staff quarters.

The kitchen has been greatly enlarged, redesigned and re-equipped with ample capacity to meet its new functions. A new and much larger dining room is served by a cafeteria.

The surgical department is contained on the first floor. The operating suite itself consists of twelve rooms including two major and two minor operating rooms, anesthetic and recovery rooms. Adjacent to this area two large rooms accommodate central and sterile supplies with a new automatic autoclave installed in the separation partition. Fifty-nine beds are assigned for surgery and are contained in ten standard wards, five semi-private and four private wards.

The maternity department will be transferred to the top floor. The old operating suite is being converted to two case rooms and one labor room. Two nurseries, separated by an examining room and a work area, are strategically located and will accommodate a total of twenty bassinets. A suspect nursery has also been provided and will carry one bassinette. Two standard four-bed wards, five semi-private and two private, will complete the 20-bed maternity section in the old wing.

The medical department in the new section consists of nine standard four-bed wards, four semi-private

United Kingdom Information Head Will Address Kelowna Rotary Club

Gordon Huson, B.Sc., information adviser to the United Kingdom High Commissioner, will be guest speaker at the Kelowna Rotary Club luncheon on Tuesday, April 1. Mr. Huson, who will speak on "The Brighter Side of Britain," is currently touring Western Canada.

He has been information adviser to the High Commissioner for the United Kingdom in Canada, and director of the United Kingdom Information Office in Ottawa since November, 1949.

Mr. Huson has not always been in the diplomatic service. He describes himself as "a newspaper man gone wrong." Had it not been for the shortage of newspaper in Britain and one private ward, making a total of 45 beds.

SEGREGATE GROUPS

The entire ground floor of the new hospital has been assigned to pediatric wards. The seven wards permit segregation into age, sex and case groups, considered to be a very desirable feature.

It is hoped that the increased bed capacity in the main building will accommodate the case load for some time to come, permitting us to plan the top floor of the Annex. It will be kept furnished and in readiness, however, to take any overflow of medical cases which might arise.

WARD FURNISHINGS

All major essential items, with the exception of $10,500.00 worth of kitchen equipment, have now been received. Ward furnishings to the amount of $23,000 have been delivered. Thanks to the generous response of groups and individuals in the city and surrounding districts to the board's earnest appeal for assistance our objective appears to have been gained. Without this very substantial financial help there was no means by which the board could have furnished and equipped our new hospital. It has been necessary to spend carefully and as wisely as possible on those selected items classified as essential. Many other desirable items have had to be foregone, at least for the time being.

Taxpayers Demand Power Sub-Station Be Removed

TWO city taxpayers, who said they represented 20 property owners who are affected by the noise of the city sub-station at the corner of Richter Street and Francis Avenue, appeared before City Council Monday night and demanded a definite answer regarding the future of the sub-station.

Charging that the City Council had failed to call a meeting in order that the matter can be thrashed out, the spokesmen, Nick Matlick and A. Perrault now want the sub-station removed from the present site.

Legal adviser Humphrey Blake, also appeared at the meeting, although he did not address the council.

The residents are complaining over the loud transformer "hum" and claim it is injuring the health of nearby residents, while the erection of the sub-station has depreciated property values.

WOULD ELIMINATE NOISE

Mayor J. J. Laid said as far as he personally was concerned, the sub-station would not be moved, but that the noise would be eliminated as much as possible. Ald. Dick Parkinson agreed, adding that the cost of moving would be prohibitive.

April 4 has been tentatively set for a meeting between the complainants, West Kootenay Power and Light Co., and members of the City Council.

Mr. Matlick said he saw little purpose in calling a meeting. "Does the city propose to move the sub-station, yes, or no, that is what we want to know," he declared.

"OTHER SIDE OF STORY"

When Ald. R. F. L. Keller asked Mr. Matlick to submit a list of names of the people living in the city limits who are bothered by the noise, Mr. Matlick hotly replied:

"That puts the onus on me. All I ask is that you spend one night in my bedroom," he declared.

Ald. Jack Treadgold was in favor of calling a meeting. "So far I've only heard the council viewpoint. I want to hear the other side of the story," he said.

MANY APPLY FOR VACANT CIVIC POST

CLOSE to 60 applications have been received by the city for the position of city comptroller, a post vacated by Carl Brannan, who this week leaves for Victoria where he has accepted the position of assistant city comptroller.

It is understood that council went through the various applications in committee Monday night. It will probably be several weeks before an appointment is made, as a personal interview will be given the successful applicant.

In accepting Mr. Brannan's resignation Monday night, various members of the City Council paid tribute to the city comptroller. All agreed they were sorry to see Mr. Brannan leave the city.

In reply, the city comptroller said "I have never worked with a better group of men in all my life."

"Whereas the Board of School Trustees of Kelowna School District 23 has carefully re-examined the budget and once again submits that the 1932 estimates are prudent and justified in every particular, and

"Whereas the City Council of Kelowna has urgently appealed to this board that certain capital expenditure be postponed until next year, explaining that the Council is hopeful that year 1933 will see more relief given to municipalities for education,

"Therefore be it resolved that this board agrees, in a spirit of compromise, to reduce the total of the budget from $779,710 to $746,710, being the sum of $33,000."

CITY SAVES $5,000

The figure of $33,000 includes $28,000 for a warehouse-office building, $4,500 for a bus chassis, and $2,500 as portion of additions to the Glenmore and Martin Avenue schools.

There was some doubt expressed by the trustees after their resolution had passed on whether City Council would agree to the same reduction. This was due partly to the fact that the $33,000 reduction in the estimates meant an actual saving to the City of Kelowna of only $5,000.

Inspector A. S. Matheson pointed out that by eliminating $33,000 from

He previously operated the Lake Cowichan Riverside Inn, a fishing and hunting resort, and also the Caldwell Inn at Victoria. He moved direct to Princeton from Vancouver Island.

OLD PALACE HOTEL

Mr. Armstrong is the Penticton manager of the Okanagan Loan and Investment Co., where he has lived for the past three years. Prior to moving to the South Okanagan city, he was connected with the Toronto General Trust in Vancouver for 12 years. He plans to remain in Penticton, while Mr. Taylor will move to Kelowna to manage the hotel.

The Royal Anne was built on the site of the old Palace Hotel when a large number of local citizens decided the growing community needed a new hotel and provided money for that purpose. Eventually H. Broad and J. Dunlop became the principal shareholders and about five years ago sold their interest, said to be 60 percent, to the Okanagan Investment Company, which remained the largest shareholder until the present time.

START YOUNGSTER'S FINANCIAL CAREER WITH ONE DOLLAR

Early Years are Best in Forming Steady Savings Habit

To your youngster a dollar means more now than it will in later life. If he can retain this youthful respect for money as he matures, he will be likely to form lifelong habits of wise spending and regular saving. As countless "success stories" show, these habits are of vital assistance in career-building and happy living.

You can impress these important traits on your child's mind by using a simple method. Thousands of Canadian parents have employed it successfully. You just give your youngster a dollar to start a Bank of Montreal savings account. You encourage him to save from his pocket money for some of the things he wants. Thus, you help him to help himself, and he achieves patience and purposefulness.

Why not send him around to the B. of M. to open his account tomorrow. Fred Baines, local branch manager, and his staff will be glad to assist your youngster to start his own "success-story."

Mayor Says City Tax Rate Would Have To Be Upped 8½ Mills To Meet Share Of School Costs Under 1952 Budget

KELOWNA'S tax levy would have to be boosted eight-and-a-half mills in order to meet the city's share of education costs, Mayor J. J. Ladd told members of an arbitration board Monday afternoon. The board, composed of R. J. McDougall, chairman; J. H. Horn, representing the city, and Ivor J. Newman, representing the school board, was appointed after City Council rejected the 1952 school estimates.

The school budget amounts to $411,655.36, of which Kelowna's share is $256,031.89, an increase of $42,783.05 over last year. In a lengthy brief, Mayor Ladd contended that due to poor crops during the past three years, fewer people have been employed within the city's boundaries, and those who have been employed, particularly in the fruit industry, have been working for shorter periods. He also pointed out that many commercial ventures in the city have failed or discontinued business, while shrinkage in the purchasing power of the dollar has also wrought havoc among many pensioners.

Mr. Ladd said the city cannot stand an increase in the tax rate. "However, unless school costs are reduced substantially, we will have no alternative but to raise it with disastrous results. Although the Council will be blamed for any increase, the responsibility for it rests with an organization over which the council can exercise no financial control."

At the same time the school board contended that the money the city receives from the social service and municipal aid tax, should be earmarked for education purposes. School board chairman G. C. Hume refuted the statement that the school budget would require 32 of the 48 mills that council considers the limit that it is prepared to levy.

"The city has been deriving approximately two-thirds of its revenue, for other than school purposes, from government grants, including its share of the S.S. & M.A. tax proceeds and other forms of taxation, including the imposts for electric light, power and water. If the Council had followed the practice of devoting the S.S. & M.A. grant to reduce its school levy, the school rate would be reduced by not less than 12 mills," he declared.

MAY GET MORE MONEY

Mr. Hume submitted a letter from the deputy minister of education, which stated that Kelowna was notified some time ago that instead of an expected $111,000 from the S.S. & M.A. tax they might receive this year $391,000 because of the change in census figures. "Since then, census revisions indicate that Kelowna may expect a payment of at least $98,000 which would be a reduction of $13,000 at the most. There is a possibility, depending, of course, upon the volume of sales and census figures, that this payment might be increased even beyond the $98,000, but no guarantee can be given of this," Mr. Hume quoted the deputy minister.

Mayor Ladd, however, also had an answer to this argument. He contended that even if the S.S. & M.A. tax revenue had been earmarked for school costs, the city's share this year would still be $69,755.54 greater than in 1951.

Mr. Ladd said that in addition to a decrease in trade licence revenue, similar decreases can be expected in other departments. "In 1950 the gross revenue from the sale of electricity was $327,167.16; last year it was $322,234.81 and this year we estimate that it will be only $308,000."

CONTROL DEPARTMENTS
"As these revenues become less, we must reduce our expenditures accordingly. As far as the departments under our control are concerned, this is being done and we submit that the same procedure should be adopted in the case of School District No. 23."

He charged that other civic departments must reduce expenditures more than their fair proportion in order that education "may get its pound of flesh."

In conclusion, Mr. Ladd said: "Although there are no doubt numerous ways in which the excess of proposed school expenditures for the current year can be cut down, we respectfully ask that you give particular attention to the following items:

TEACHERS' SALARIES
"This amount is $58,412.00 higher than last year. In our opinion, the increase in teachers' salaries should be offset by reducing the number of teachers and increasing the number of pupils in each class. The argument that the teachers cannot handle larger classes or that the quality of the instruction would decline if the classes were larger is pure nonsense. In universities throughout Canada during the six years following the war, three or four times the normal number of students filled the lecture halls without hardship to themselves or their instructors. Many of our present teachers attended university or normal school during that period and it is doubtful if any of them would testify that the quality of the instruction which they received was of an inferior nature."

TEACHING SUPPLIES

"The estimated cost of $15,955 for teaching supplies is obviously much greater than the amount required as this figure is $4,375 higher than last year and $3,841.00 higher than the average expenditure on this item during the preceding four years."

CAPITAL ACCOUNT

"All the items under this heading should be deleted during the current year as money definitely should not be spent on construction when the cost of labor and materials is so high. The City of Kelowna, realizing the folly of making capital expenditures at the present time and when our budget for 1952 is brought down, you will see that we practice what we preach."

"In summary I should like to reiterate that the 1952 estimates of School District No. 23 are excessive and, that if they are not reduced substantially, it will not be possible for the City of Kelowna to provide (Turn to Page 5, Story 2) never will be perfect. Our best pupils today are better than they were, although the general average is down."

With $500,000.00 being spent on mental hospitals, Inspector Matheson said authorities are vitally concerned with better mental health. Attention during the adolescent period was important, he stated. With reference to the Peachland school and other items under proposed capital outlay, Mayor Ladd suggested a delegation look the properties over. During a short verbal exchange between Mayor Ladd and Inspector Matheson, the latter asked: "Does Mayor Ladd wish schools in Kelowna to be inferior to all schools in this valley and others in the province?"

"No," replied the Kelowna mayor. "The government is not carrying enough of the load."

RELIEF IN SIGHT
"Relief is in sight," replied Inspector Matheson, assuming that a definite presentation was going to be made at the next session of the legislature."

His worship also exchanged verbalities with George Day over the proposed Peachland school improvements. The former stated it was "false economy."

"Why not pass a money bill?" asked Mayor Ladd. "You would not be scared to put it to a popular vote of people? I maintain you would."

Mr. Day countered by saying that it appeared that the general public had a feeling of lack of confidence in those they nominate.

"Mr. Ladd suggested every act of trustees be put to vote of the people. It's not democratic. Anyone can have my job anytime," he said.

At no time did statements reach the bitter stage.

"Nothing personal in this," was the comment that was heard afterwards.

POOR SPELLERS
"Where are they going to end?" he asked.

"As for results, what are they? Some can't even spell properly. As a taxpayer, am I getting value for money paid?"

Inspector A. S. Matheson agreed that many people were poor spellers.

"We are trying to give everyone the kind of course they want," he said. "There is lots to improve ...

DOCTOR NAMED GOOD CITIZEN AT SUMMERLAND

SUMMERLAND—Dr. Alfred W. Vanderburgh, pioneer resident of the Summerland district for 39 years and a medical practitioner who has earned the respect and liking of hundreds of persons in the South Okanagan since he commenced his medical practice here in the mid-1920s, was the surprised recipient of the award for the fourteenth time was undertaken by the donor of the cup, Reid Johnston, a past president.

Born in Ontario, Dr. Vanderburgh came west with his parents to Summerland in 1913. He joined the RCAF and went overseas before transferring to the Royal Air Force.

While overseas he pitched for the all-Canadian baseball team against the Americans before the King and Queen in the first baseball game ever played on the "hallowed" MCC cricket grounds.

Returning from World War I, Dr. Vanderburgh graduated as a bachelor of medicine from Toronto University and came west to relieve Dr. F. W. Andrew in 1925. He remained here to set up his practice and to hundreds he has been the "family doctor" ever since.

Reid Johnston reminded his audience of the many good deeds Dr. Vanderburgh accomplished and of the number of times he forgot to collect any fee for his medical calls, especially during the "hungry thirties."

During World War II, Dr. Vanderburgh again joined the services, this time as a medical officer in the RCAF.

Throughout his life he has always taken a keen interest in baseball and has been a promoter of the game in both junior and senior ranks for years.

The spontaneous applause which greeted the announcement by Reid Johnston that the man who has "toted the little black bag" around this district for so many years had been awarded the Good Citizen cup left no doubt as to the popularity of the award.

O. L. Jones Urges Federal Government Assistance For B.C. Fruit Growers

APPEAL for federal government assistance to British Columbia fruit growers who are feeling the effects of high freight rates and loss of export markets, was recently made in the House of Commons by O. L. Jones, M.P. (Yale). It was one of the longest addresses Mr. Jones has made in the House.

Mr. Jones said that, unlike other types of industries, the fruit grower can not change overnight in growing another variety of produce. "It is just as silly to suggest that the motor manufacturer who suddenly finds himself unable to sell cars might turn to the making of chocolate biscuits or that the wheat grower on the prairie, suddenly told there is no more call for wheat, had better grow oranges," he continued.

Text of Mr. Jones' address is as follows: "I have a subject which, to my mind, is a far more important one, as it deals with the fruit and vegetable industry of my constituency. I make no apology for taking the time of the house to deal with it, because the fruit growers of this area of which I speak are greatly worried today as a result of the condition existing in their industry."

"The fruit and vegetable industry of my constituency dates back to the last century. Some of the original orchards were planted by Lord Aberdeen when he was here representing His Majesty in Canada. This industry is the result of encouragement by the provincial and federal governments, all through the years. Not only that, it has proved to be a good investment for both those governments, as a source of both direct and indirect taxes for the municipal, provincial and federal coffers. Originally, fruit and vegetables were planted in the interior of British Columbia as a source of food for the settlers in western Canada. Later on, as the industry progressed, at the request and with the encouragement of the government, the producers geared their industry to supply the United Kingdom demand which called for a different size of apple, a different type of apple and an apple of a different color. The industry therefore for many years has been geared up to meet that demand in what today is a lost market; and that is part of our problem."

"For many years now we have been producing fruit of an exceedingly high quality for the markets of the world; and I mean high quality in uniform, dependable grades. This high grade of our fruit and the help of the federal trade commissioners enabled us to compete in nearly every important market of the world. The fruit growers in the British Columbia tree-fruit area are grateful for the financial assistance given to them by the federal government, from time to time; but our industry suffered, possibly more than did any other industry in Canada during the war and postwar years. That suffering was not as a result of anything of our doing. It was beyond our control. Part of it resulted from currency control, part of it through the economic ills of the importing countries, partly through the difficulties existing in the sterling areas, and partly through the United States subsidies paid on apples to what were formerly markets for British Columbia apples. The United States subsidizes apples going to those areas that formerly were our markets to the extent of $1.25 a box or a bushel.

"It is true that in times of stress and difficulty some industries can switch quickly from a non-profitable line to a profitable one. But in the fruit industry the fruit producers cannot do that. Theirs is a five to ten-year program, their trees producing when they are from seven to ten years old. They are tied up for a long period with cold storage plants, with irrigation projects, with packing plants, with marketing and export facilities; and you cannot change to any other saleable product using these facilities that are expensive and costly of upkeep. It is just as silly to suggest that the motor manufacturer who suddenly finds himself unable to sell cars might turn to the making of chocolate biscuits or that the wheat grower on the prairie suddenly told that there is no more call for wheat, had better grow oranges. It is just as impossible for us in the fruit industry to change overnight to something more profitable."

Guests representing trade boards from Kelowna, Westbank, Penticton and Princeton, as well as presidents of many local organizations gathered with some hundred trade board members and their wives for this annual function which is anticipated so keenly by this community.

John F. McLean, director of personnel and students' services at UBC was the guest speaker and discussed The University Graduate and Business to the gathering.

Presentation of the award for the fourteenth time was undertaken by the donor of the cup, Reid Johnston, a past president.

umbra, and much new acreage coming into bearing each year.

"We wish to point out that these growers planted, and are growing these grapes with a view to selling a large percentage of their crops to the wineries of British Columbia."

"We would also like to point out that many local people as well as grape growers have invested large sums of money in the wineries of British Columbia, and these wineries are well able to supply the demand for wines in British Columbia."

"And incidentally supply other western provinces. I continue: 'If American wines are sold in British Columbia it will mean the British Columbia grape growers and wineries will have a difficult time to stay in business, and as the provincial government is spending thousands of dollars to help build up industries in British Columbia, it is only fair to protect those who have invested their money to build up the railways. We now find that the bridge was not actually in British Columbia at all, but rather in northern Ontario. It took only a matter of weeks for this house to pass a bill to give relief when this bridge was found. Ours had been hidden for fifty years and is yet to be found. In the case of Ontario, they got $7 million a year to take care of that part of the railway that is considered unprofitable, and I claim that British Columbia should be treated in the same way. As it is, for the last few years we have been penalized in excess rate charges to million of between $2 million and $3 million annually. While British Columbia paid this penalty for fifty years, special consideration was given to many other areas of Canada. I will mention a few: The Maritimes Freight Rates Act, the Crownstee grain rates for the prairie, the feed grain assistance, all of which British Columbia helped directly or indirectly to pay. The royal commission acknowledged these facts and made certain recommendations which I hope will be acted upon."

"I believe the railway companies realize that some relief must be given in transportation costs. Otherwise they will kill the apple industry in British Columbia. In the end lose a valuable industry that pays high rates. We do feel the suggestion that has gone forward now that freight rates be equalized as a national policy may help to solve our transportation problem. We urge the board of transport commissioners to give sympathetic consideration to the case of the British Columbia fruit producers during the hearing on this subject in the very near future."

"While our troubles in the industry have caused various communities to seek a balancing influence, several towns have gone out of their way to try to induce new industries to come to settle in the Okanagan valley particularly in order to balance our economy. In January of this year I happened to be attending a growers association conference at Penticton. The Minister of Fisheries (Mr. Mayhew) addressed that conference, and I beheld he strongly advised the growers there represented not to bother with outside industries at all; that the valley was not entirely suited, but to concentrate on their own fruit and fruit by-products to develop their own industry based on fruit and vegetables. We have tried that, and we are still trying it. Some years ago we tried to establish a winery in the hope that farmers who grow grapes could find a ready market for them. We have found a fair market for those grapes, and wine but now these people sent me a letter today, part of which I shall quote as follows. It is signed by the president of Canona Wines, Limited:

"There is considerable bearing acreage of grapes in British Columbia."

"The grape growers of Ontario have asked for protection against American wines, and our information is that they are being given that protection. As we consider this a serious matter, and immediate action is required."

"That immediate action, requested incidentally, is not at all from the federal government because this is a provincial matter. I am just reading the letter to show the house the difficulty facing the industry. (Turn to Page 3, Story 1)

"There is considerable bearing acreage of grapes in British Columbia."

"The grape growers of Ontario have asked for protection against American wines, and our information is that they are being given that protection. As we consider this a serious matter, and immediate action is required."

"That immediate action, requested incidentally, is not at all from the federal government because this is a provincial matter. I am just reading the letter to show the house the difficulty facing the industry. (Turn to Page 3, Story 1)

"We wish to point out that these growers planted, and are growing these grapes with a view to selling a large percentage of their crops to the wineries of British Columbia."

"We would also like to point out that many local people as well as grape growers have invested large sums of money in the wineries of British Columbia, and these wineries are well able to supply the demand for wines in British Columbia."

"And incidentally supply other western provinces. I continue: 'If American wines are sold in British Columbia it will mean the British Columbia grape growers and wineries will have a difficult time to stay in business, and as the provincial government is spending thousands of dollars to help build up industries in British Columbia, it is only fair to protect those who have invested their money to build up the railways. We now find that the bridge was not actually in British Columbia at all, but rather in northern Ontario. It took only a matter of weeks for this house to pass a bill to give relief when this bridge was found. Ours had been hidden for fifty years and is yet to be found. In the case of Ontario, they got $7 million a year to take care of that part of the railway that is considered unprofitable, and I claim that British Columbia should be treated in the same way. As it is, for the last few years we have been penalized in excess rate charges to million of between $2 million and $3 million annually. While British Columbia paid this penalty for fifty years, special consideration was given to many other areas of Canada. I will mention a few: The Maritimes Freight Rates Act, the Crownstee grain rates for the prairie, the feed grain assistance, all of which British Columbia helped directly or indirectly to pay. The royal commission acknowledged these facts and made certain recommendations which I hope will be acted upon."

"I believe the railway companies realize that some relief must be given in transportation costs. Otherwise they will kill the apple industry in British Columbia. In the end lose a valuable industry that pays high rates. We do feel the suggestion that has gone forward now that freight rates be equalized as a national policy may help to solve our transportation problem. We urge the board of transport commissioners to give sympathetic consideration to the case of the British Columbia fruit producers during the hearing on this subject in the very near future."

"While our troubles in the industry have caused various communities to seek

"The other matter is apple juice. A great deal of apple juice has been processed in the valley, and with a view to extending the market I wrote to the Minister of National Defence (Mr. Claxton), asking that apple juice be placed on the menu for the army, navy and air force, and I had a very encouraging reply from the minister. But today I received this invitation to tender. It is an invitation to tender for fruit juices and jams. I was rather anxious to find out what success we had in trying to get the navy to purchase apple juice. I find that they are ordering 7,200 tins of fruit cocktail, 7,200 tins of grapefruit juice, 12,800 tins of orange juice. These tins are all 20-ounce tins. Then there are 10,000 tins of pineapple juice, 4,800 tins of blended juice and 1,200 bottles of lime juice, but not an ounce of apple juice. I should like to draw that to the attention of the minister. Possibly he has the best of intentions to see that British Columbia or Ontario apple juice is placed on the menu in the different camps and messes. I hope that by drawing his attention to it, he will have the matter checked, because I think it is unfair to call for these huge quantities of juice that have to be brought into this country from other countries when we have a better product manufactured in our own country."

"I am outlining our troubles in the hope that the suggestions I have made will bear fruit. After listening to the minister today giving figures regarding our trade with Great Britain I can see very little hope of increasing what is already an increased figure, but I would suggest that the cabinet consider trying to persuade Great Britain to allow some of the money now being spent in Canada to be diverted to apples. I mention that because we are definitely stuck with apples, especially for the United Kingdom market. I do feel that if through the good offices of the cabinet and the ministers concerned, we can induce the British government to sidetrack some of that money they are spending in larger quantities each year towards purchasing our fruit we shall be moving a step forward because I think that would be a good policy. If it were possible for negotiations to be carried out to take payment in sterling or, as I have suggested before, barter for other goods, it would be to our advantage. Foreign markets are a little more difficult. We have sold in practically every country in the world from Egypt to South America and in Japan and China. Through an excellent product we were gaining command of the foreign market until the United States suddenly decided that they were going to try to get into that lucrative market. They have done it not through producing a superior product but through subsidizing the apple industry to the tune of $1.25 a box or $1.25 a bushel. I feel that the whole question of our foreign trade should be referred to the committee on agriculture and colonization, or a special committee should be set up, composed of agricultural members and financial members, to discuss how best we can solve the problems of an industry such as ours in the valley that is geared up to a condition that no longer exists. It is a long-time plan that we have to deal with, and I feel that in order to give us help over the present difficulties we should have the government apply a floor price. I am not going to take up the time to deal with that but I make the suggestion to the government that floor prices for apples and vegetables be considered. Again I am suggesting to the cabinet that they instruct the farm loan board to be more generous than they were with the victims of the last severe frost we had in the valley. The conditions under which these farmers can get loans today are more difficult than they were five or even ten years ago because, presumably, upon applications given to farm loan officials on the ground, it appears to be impossible to get decent loans on good risks. I have pointed out before that risks have been turned down by the farm loan board, although they have been acceptable to orthodox loan companies and, in one case, an orthodox bank, for loans of similar amounts."

"So that I feel the intent of the farm loan board should be to be more free with loans than are the banking institutions and the other loan companies. Yet such is not the case. Therefore I would ask the minister to talk this matter over and see if something cannot be done to help these people bridge over this very difficult period in their development."

FROZEN ORCHARDS
"Owing to the joint calamity of frozen orchards and shrinking markets another problem faces us in the valley, and I refer to the problem of the workers in the industry. The packing house season is very short, and the season for field work is also short, and has also been reduced to a high degree because of difficulties arising from the loss of trees."

"The claim period for unemployment insurance has been reduced, as well. This on top of the seasonal nature of the industry, merits special consideration. I would ask the Minister of Labour (Mr. Gregg) to survey the conditions now existing in the tree fruit areas where some thousands of men and women are at the moment unemployed. Such a survey should take into consideration unemployment insurance for farm workers. I do believe that if it were extended to farm workers they would be assisted materially in the present crisis."

"I would suggest also that the minister consider extending the supplementary claim period until the end of May. As it is today, many of these seasonal workers cannot possibly hope to qualify for unemployment insurance, because of the shorter periods during which they are employed. I feel that in these cases, where men and women have been contributing toward protection they cannot get, and do not hope to get because of the shortness of the season, they should be returned in full any premium they may have paid during the previous year. I believe this would give justice to these people."

"I feel also that this survey should take place immediately, and that steps should be taken to try to stabilize the unemployment situation in the tree fruit area. I have here a letter from the city of Kelowna bearing the signature of the city clerk, and endorsing a resolution sponsored by the city of London, in Ontario. While the preamble covers the conditions of unemployment in Ontario, the latter part of the letter does cover the situation in British Columbia as well. So, if I may, I should like to read the resolution, which states: 'That whereas the dominion government, in the early years of world war II, negotiated with the provinces for the exclusive right to tax income; 'And whereas, at the same time, the responsibility for relief of unemployed persons was taken over 100 percent by the dominion government and the provinces undertook, on behalf of themselves and their municipalities, to share the cost of maintaining unemployed persons, the ratio of responsibility in Ontario being 50 percent and 50 percent; 'And whereas over the past twelve years the dominion government has been faced with practically no unemployment problem so that its responsibility for relief of

It seems to me the world is going quite wacky about coining new words. There is a tendency to make up new words to say something which an old word would say quite as well and perhaps better.

"Take, for instance, the word 'infrastructure.' One has to splutter as one says it and there is hardly a corporal's guard that knows what it means. Some bright brain in the North Atlantic Alliance organization thought it up, to mean the system of airfields, communications, barracks and so the Allies will build in Western Europe."

Apparently the idea developed from the thought that as 'infra dig' means below a man's dignity, 'infrastructure' should mean the structure beneath NATO's armed forces.

Now, I suppose, if anyone wants to make infrastructure signify the groundwork of NATO, there is no law against it. But why go to the trouble? Why not just use the word 'groundwork' or 'ground needs' to convey the meaning. Then everyone would know what was meant. But perhaps that would be too simple procedure? Maybe it would be 'infra dig' to the pompous chap who invents officialisms to use simple words?

From 'infrastructure' the bewildered reader moves on to 'The hard core of the third slice of the infrastructure.' What in the name of goodness does that phrase mean; and it came straight out of a NATO document. Such language can only be written to confuse and it is no wonder our foreign relations are continually being ruptured if such obscure words are used to convey ideas to people who normally use another language. Even those who use English cannot understand the meaning of such gibberish.

Just how far this trend can go is a matter of conjecture. What with NATO and UNESCO, with FAO and OEEC, with EPU and UNICEF the average citizen is all in a maze. He observes that his leaders, like Providence, move in a mysterious unemployment, in relation to the revenue collected from employers and employees for unemployment insurance premiums, has been negligible, while at the same time the whole burden of relief of unemployed persons has been borne by the provinces and their municipalities."

"And whereas the present increase in unemployment due primarily to the dislocation of manufacturing and construction work, as the result of credit restrictions and material priorities, has resulted in numerous appeals to the municipal level of government for assistance, either to eke out inadequate unemployment relief benefits or to substitute for them where the unemployed person is not entitled to benefit or is uncovered by the unemployment insurance regulations; 'Therefore be it resolved that the dominion government be requested to take action immediately to survey the unemployment problem and the need for increased unemployment insurance benefits and/or relief assistance, and reduction of the waiting period for collection of unemployment insurance benefit, to the minimum interval possible; that in line with the responsibilities assumed by the dominion in the dominion-provincial conference of 1940, the dominion government forthwith establish, either under dominion, provincial or municipal government supervision, offices for the handling of applications for unemployment relief assistance, so that the intolerable burden will not again be shouldered on to the municipal governments, whose revenues, being restricted almost entirely to real property tax, are not capable of handling this burden, which, under the above-mentioned arrangements, was acknowledged as a dominion responsibility in its entirety."

"I commend that resolution warmly, hoping that the government will study it, and take steps to deal with a condition that I knew some time ago was becoming worse, and I now know is acute in the tree fruit area; particularly the Okanagan valley. I would urge the government to take steps immediately to get the facts and information and, if possible, give immediate relief to that hard-pressed industry."

decided by the SAC, with the whole-hearted agreement of the Toronto ISS (WUS) committee, to unite the local activities of NTCUS and ISS (WUS) in one commission of the SAC. Thus the EAC became both the Toronto NTCUS committee and the Toronto ISS (WUS) committee. The SHARE committee is one of several functioning committees of the EAC, conducting an ISS (WUS) activity. SHARE therefore has a character quite different in constitution from AVA."

See what I mean? You and I may be confused by all this. But apparently to the modern university student it comes as easily as spelling or grammar. It is the jargon of his own small world; and in mastering it, he prepares himself to master that of the larger one. What terrors can ECOSOC hold for anybody who understands SHARE? What mysteries does ICAO present to an erstwhile official of the ISS (WUS)? The class of 1952 may be well equipped in this or that, but they are certainly well equipped for the world of 1964. And where does that leave you and I?

COLD STORAGE SUBSIDIES CUT BY GOVERNMENT

The Okanagan did not escape Finance Minister Abbott's hatchet when he slashed estimates of various departments last week.

Under the revised estimates tabled in the House of Commons, B.C. will get more in health grants; less for reclamation and land development; more for federal trade office in Vancouver; less in grants and subsidies to cold storage warehouses; less for fisheries work in the Fraser Canyon, and less for national parks.

Grants directly affecting the Central Okanagan include:

Elimination of the agriculture department's grant of $25,000 for the Bankhead Irrigation district. Reduction of subsidies for cold storage warehouses (Kelowna Growers' Exchange from $13,588 to $6,794; Summerland Co-operative Growers Association from $3,350 to $1,675; and Westbank Co-operative Growers' Association from $2,719 to $1,359.)

One new subsidy is listed: $3,975 to Shuswap Okanagan Dairy Industries' Association at Kelowna. Listed under the architectural and engineering branches of the public works department are the following items:

Okanagan flood control project aid by federal government, $1,000, which includes a revote of $38,000 last year. $480,000 was voted for the Okanagan project.

Completion of customs and immigration building at Osoyoos $50,000 (revote $2,300.)

The post war story of your Telephone Company is one of tremendous growth and expansion. To increase telephone service in the Okanagan Territory, the Okanagan Telephone Company has spent nearly two million dollars since 1945.

At the end of last year 14,955 telephones were in service . . . nearly double the number of phones in operation at the end of the war. Six new telephone exchanges have been established—five of them automatic. In addition 3 manual exchanges have been converted to dial. Today, over 2,000 subscribers enjoy automatic service—and an additional 7,000 subscribers will have dial service this year!

To make this possible your telephone company has completed a major program of new buildings and equipment in Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna.

All of this vast expansion and improvement in telephone service provided work and wages for many people outside the telephone business—while the huge increase in new telephone employees has added over $300,000 to a payroll that now approaches a half million dollars—spent almost entirely in the Okanagan Valley.

Now handling over 72,000 calls a day, your Telephone Company is working at full speed to increase the service still more.

ON APRIL 12 . . . A new $300,000 automatic exchange and toll switchboard—part of the $600,000 expansion program for Kelowna district—will cut 4,000 automatic telephones into service for new and former subscribers.

Forecast Of Spring, Summer Femininity Given At Fashion Show Sponsored By IODE

Forecast of summer femininity—1952, was in the spring and summer style show presented in the Legion auditorium yesterday afternoon and evening by the Dr. W. J. Knox chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. In keeping with the preview of fashions, some of the styles of which have not yet even reached the salesman's sample case, the show was created in stepped-up tempo, with models breezing on and off the runway to the pert and brief but to the point chatter of commentator, Mrs. W. J. Logie, and the rhythmic music of Mrs. Arthur Jackson, at the piano.

All the styles were from Heather's, and Mrs. Mervin Purvis, who assembled and directed the show, spared no pains in bringing in by air express many of these manufacturers' and designers' models and samples from Eastern Canada and the U.S. The show was designed in much the same mood as the larger shows in fashion centers of New York and Montreal.

Many of the famous names of fashion houses were represented in the collection, and all exemplified the Spring 1952 theme—femininity from sailing dainties to dance frocks. Fashion 1952 decrees fluttering pleats, exquisite skirts, romantic full curves, pretty petticoats, Gibson girl sleeves, quaint little Spencer jackets, and crisp rustling fabrics. And everywhere, under all your skirts, are crinolines.

As local ladies eyed and "oh-ed" the breathtaking collection, they found out, too, that this summer is the season of test-tube fabrics. Nylon, Dacron, Orlon, Dynel—these are names of some of the precious fabrics, which bid goodbye to ironing after each washing. Some you can tub right in the washing machine, others dry quick as a flash, finishes of others absolutely defy wrinkles.

"This season, too, of glorified accessories, and each model proved what could be done with a dress, by choosing the smartest accessories. Backdrop of the runway was a lattice-work smothered in smart accessories from Heather's. The new, spring bonnets, the kind that you perch smack on the top of your head, with cheeky accents of blossoms or bows right at the back, and gloves (short cotton crochet ones are very smart), belts galore, and scarves.

Introducing the style parade was an enchanting Hawaiian pageant, with Miss Toni Carr-Hilton executing a wonderful hip-swaying Hula dance. "From the beaches of Waikiki to the sunny Okanagan" you are perfectly dressed when you wear these styles, said Mervin Purvis, as the play-clothes section brought a whirl of bathing suits, sun-suits, sun-dresses, and the ever-increasing—in popularity pedal pushers.

SWIM SUITS
Lady of the Lake, Faye Weeks modelled a stunning one-piece black velvet swim suit (though who'd ever want to swim in it, I don't know) trimmed with sequins. Adding to the Hawaiian holiday atmosphere were the flower leis and the zany straw hats, imported directly from Hawaii by Mervin for the show. A popular Rose Marie Reid creation, terry towel fabric, flower-splashed three-piece outfit of shorts, bra-top and coat was shown by Betty Hall. Vivian Dooley's mauve striped dress with a flower lei and a matching stole and full skirt was another lovely number noted.

PLAY SUITS
Interchangeables and matching separates are vogue for this summer, too, as Mervin proved in the smart play suit and jacket in which she appeared. Matching her to every tiny, brown check was Vivian, in the complementary pedal pusher and suit-top.

For spectator sports, Betty Hall modelled an imported linen dress from Ireland, in natural tones. A navy-blue rayon gabardine two-piece with spanking white large collar and cuffs on the fully-lined jacket, looked extremely smart on Nancy O'Flaherty. Sweet as sugar candy was the pink taffie organza pique on Faye.

Mrs. L. Dewhurst looked charming and ready to meet any sunny afternoon at tea or shopping, in a smart soft silk crepe in blue and white. Betty Hall wore a Samuel Mintz creation in red rayon gabardine with the new 1952 short jacket.

A striking black Princess coat, embroidered in red and white, a Deja model in English worsted, was another costume modelled by Nancy O'Flaherty. Suits are top favorite in her wardrobe, it seems, as she appeared also in a smart three-piece, with slim skirt, belted jacket and checked top.

Mrs. Purvis chose as one of her most striking costumes an Elizabeth Ann print taffeta creation, with a black silk fullie jacket to top the strapless dress with its own built-in Charlene accessories with this made it look very much New York Fifth Avenue.

A Taub model of Italian pure silk with steel engraved design featured a net interlining in the back to give the blouse effect. Terribly smart as worn by Nancy.

"Shot right out of the Bowerly" was Betty Hall in her Du-Va casual suit of black crease-resistant rayon. The cropped jacket had cape sleeves and is completely reversible to checks or plain.

Older women admired the Fit-Well navy cardigan suit modelled by Mrs. Fred Gibson. Its white silk cord facing at neckline relieves the smart severity of the navy. Another outfit chosen by Mrs. Gibson was a Deja grey two-piece taffeta cocktail suit with slightly fuller skirt, soft neckline which featured a big bow.

Mrs. E. C. Mallo also favors navy, and her Deja creation in navy crepe had a natural silk shantung dickey, and the skirt featured tiny pleats at the front. All women who wear half-sizes were interested in another smart outfit modelled by Mrs. Mallo, in its-tone grey. This suit featured a scroll trim on the collar.

Convener of the show was Mrs. R. P. Walrod, while members of the Dr. Knox Chapter assisted with back-stage preparations and myriad other details connected with the presentation. Staff of Heather's was in charge of the dressing room. Miss Doris Leathley headed the ticket committee. Afternoon tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Percy Pettipiece, while Mrs. Jack Gordon supervised arrangements to serve refreshments following the evening show.

Double Ring Wedding Rites Performed At Local Church

First United Church was the scene of a pretty candlelight wedding Tuesday night of last week, when Rev. R. L. Lauder of Nanaimo, united in marriage, Irene Margaret Jacques, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jacques, 470 Buckland Avenue, and Emery Francis Swinamer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Swinamer, of Lunenburg, N.S.

For the eight o'clock double ring ceremony, the bride chose a gown of ivory-toned satin, styled with high round neckline, three-quarter length sleeves, and double net overskirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil, and carried a natural bouquet of Briardiff roses, sprigged with heather, and ivy streamers. She was given in marriage by her father.

As her sister's only attendant, Miss Elizabeth Jacques chose pale pink satin for her gown with a matching headpiece. Her bouquet was of Golden Wonder carnations, narcissus and iris.

Mr. Howard Tyrrell, of Victoria, was the groom's attendant.

Dr. Ivan Beadle, organist, played the wedding music. The church was tastefully decorated with bouquets of tulips and carnations for the ceremony.

Mr. McLaren proposed the toast to the bride at the reception for about 20 guests which followed at the home of the bride's parents. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jacques wore an attractive afternoon dress of grey-blue crepe, navy hat, and a corsage of bright pink carnations.

Mrs. Harry Little presided at the urns, while assisting with the serving were Miss Elsie Muir, of Vancouver; and Miss Frances Campbell from Sydney, Cape Breton Isl., N.S.

The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon to points south by car. For travelling, the bride donned a Chinese red knitted wool two-piece dress, with which she wore a winter white Dutch cap and navy coat and accessories. They will make their home at Sidney, V.I.

Among the out-of-town guests were the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. E. Little, of Regina; the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Jacques, of Calgary; and the groom's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tyrrell, of Victoria.

MAKING CLOTHING for children is an important part of home-sewing and the department where saving is noticeable as the high cost of children's clothing is often out of proportion to the average family income. Again, quality counts because even though the little ones grow quickly, the garments must stand hard wear and many washings.

Making Little Girl's Dresses

Little girl's dresses are easy to make and can often be made from remnants of pretty fabrics. Printed cottons, dotted swiss, organdy and cotton broadcloth all make lovely dresses which can be used for everyday or, if made in a dressy pattern, can be worn to parties. Silk taffeta makes lovely party dresses for them as they grow older and can be worn over a hoop-skirt petticoat. The smaller tots look very sweet too with stand-out petticoats under their dresses. Trimmings, embroidery and smocking add greatly to the value of the dresses. Many patterns are available in the pattern books complete with directions for sewing the dresses as well as with directions for the embroidery.

Since children grow in height so very much faster than they do anywhere else, the garments can be worn longer if you are always careful to allow good deep hems that can be let down when needed. The little dresses can be shirred for fullness or made with tiny tucks which furnish an excellent opportunity for you to use your sewing machine attachments. Ready-made trimmings are easy to apply such as rick-rack braid, colored bias bindings, narrow lace and eyelid embroidered ruching, and often add a very smart touch.

SUMP DRAIN RECOMMENDED FOR HOSPITAL

Kelowna General Hospital will be requested to make provision for a "sump drain" leading from the transformer room in the building.

Ald. R. F. L. Keller said there are a total of five transformers, containing a total of 73 gallons of oil, in the transformer room. The sump under the floor would not take care of the oil, in the event a large transformer (containing around 13 gallons of oil) was broken. While the risk was negligible, there was always the danger of the oil igniting.

The drain pipe would take the surplus oil from the sump.

Stockpile Hundred Thousand Tons Of Gravel For Southern Highway

In preparation for the reconstruction of the Pentleton-Trout Creek section of Okanagan Highway No. 97, the provincial public works department has made ready a huge stockpile of road building material at its crushing plant located south of the experimental station at Summerland.

J. W. Miers, divisional engineer at Pentleton, stated that 100,000 tons of minus two-inch and minus three-quarter-inch gravel has been crushed.

"The two-inch (material) will be used in the base course of the highway and the 3/4-inch for the gravel surface and also for the bituminous pavement," he declared.

Another big stockpile is to be prepared for the Summerland-Deep Creek section at a point near the Greata Ranch, Mr. Miers also stated.

Tom Clark, who was resident engineer when the Summerland-Peachland section of Okanagan highway was reconstructed in 1923, and who resided at Crescent Beach at the time, has been appointed by the public works department to take charge of a survey crew to plot the re-location of the Summerland-Deep Creek section.

In more recent years, Mr. Clark was engineer on the Pine Pass highway development for the public works department.

Mr. Clark who had retired to Naramata, recently visited Summerland and discussed road conditions in the district with Reeve C. E. Bentley.

It is expected that it will be mainly on the results and findings of this relocating survey that the course of the modernized highway from Trout Creek to Deep Creek will be determined.

There is no expectation that this section will be started this year, although the government will probably be urged to make a start in 1953.

OTHER PROJECTS

The public works' bridge program for the coming year will approximate $1,882,000, including a new bridge over Pentleton Creek to cost $30,000 and a new bridge over Okanagan River at Okanagan Falls, at a cost of $115,000.

Another bridge under construction is in Kelowna district over Mission Creek.

RADIO NOISES NOW ELIMINATED AT VERNON

VERNON — "Considerable improvement" in radio reception was noted at last week's regular meeting of the City Council, by Ald. Jack Monk, who said he had spent three days touring the city with a federal department of transport radio inspector.

"I have had many compliments passed to me on the streets about the improvement in radio reception," Ald. Monk said.

He said the federal inspector would return to Vernon to ensure that the improvement in reception was maintained.

Ald. Monk later said no report was forthcoming from the inspector as to the cause of the interference.

than 8% of the budget, covers administration, all materials for maintenance, classroom, and janitor's supplies of all kinds, replacement of worn-out furniture and equipment and many other things. The estimates for all these items have been kept to the very minimum, consistent with reasonable efficiency and the Trustees assert that they cannot carry on with less than the sums requisitioned.

KINLOCH GETS NOMINATION FOR TORIES

VERNON—David F. B. Kinloch, of Coldstream, last week was nominated candidate of the North Okanagan Progressive Conservative Association at the forthcoming provincial election.

Mr. Kinloch was the unanimous choice of the delegates at a well-attended nominating convention held in the Canadian Legion auditorium. His nomination was moved by North Okanagan Prog.-Cons. president John (Paddy) Hill, and found a seconder in Laurence Macdonell. There were no other candidates for nomination, although it was known others had been asked to allow their names to stand.

In moving the nomination of Mr. Kinloch, Mr. Hill said he had known the candidate for many years, and recalled a fine war record.

"He was a Scotsman, and answered the call of empire as only Scotsmen have done through the years," Mr. Hill added.

He said Mr. Kinloch was well known throughout the North Okanagan, and thus he would not dwell at length on his background. Mr. Kinloch, in his maiden political speech, said he wanted to assure the delegates that he would do his utmost to see that their confidence in him was justified.

THE PAS, Man.—Another dog mushing record was shattered as the fifth annual Manitoba Trappers' Festival concluded here. John Pranteau of Cormorant Lake won the 20-mile freight dog race in the fast time of two hours, 13 minutes, 29 seconds.

CITY TRAFFIC REGULATIONS ARE AMENDED

City Council last week approved several recommendations submitted by the traffic control committee. Proposed changes cover school crosswalks; restricted parking, etc.

Recommendations approved are as follows:

That the crosswalk on Pendozi Street at Lake Avenue be painted out and that a crosswalk be painted at Buckland Avenue along with a sign "stop when occupied." Main purpose is to help children going to and from school.

One-car parking space on the west side of Pendozi Street (formerly used by a taxi company) opposite Schell's Grill, be removed.

Five minute parking signs on the west side of Ellis Street from Bernard Avenue north to the lane and one hour parking between Mill Avenue south to the lane on the same side of the street.

That it is illegal for motorists to park vehicles on a road with the car facing the opposite direction to the line of traffic.

That a one-car parking space be allowed for police in front of the magistrate's office on Bernard Avenue.

Recommendation that block numbers be painted on telephone and electric light poles to enable people to find residential numbers was tabled for the time being. Main reason was the cost involved.

The recommendations were formally approved by resolution at last Monday night's meeting.

BEYOND ABILITY

Glenmore municipality is unable to pay more, declared Andrew Ritchie. The amount demanded in 1952 was 35 percent higher than 1950, "and it is absolutely beyond our ability to pay."

Inspector A. S. Matheson said cost of the average pupil in School District No. 23 was $186.40 compared with an average per pupil cost of $210.80 in ten districts.

"The Kelowna district is below the average in per pupil cost in everything but teachers' salaries, repair and maintenance and ordinary capital. This results in giving the district the second to the lowest per pupil cost in the Okanagan region," he said.

"With respect to teachers' salaries, whilst a common scale is in force in the Okanagan zone, the larger units have a greater number of fully experienced teachers with advanced certification than have the smaller districts. Thus Pentleton, Vernon and Kelowna are slightly above the average in this cost."

Touching on capital expenditures, Mr. Matheson said renovations to the Martin Avenue and Glenmore elementary schools are necessary due to condensation. This work is necessary in order to prevent deterioration of these buildings, he said.

The Peachland building is 45 years old and is obsolete and in bad condition. The heating system is so bad that it cannot be used for another year. Modernization and improvements will cost the district $10,000 he said, in addition to the department's contribution.

"The citizens of Peachland are much dissatisfied with the conditions as they exist and point out they have helped finance new buildings and improvements in many parts of the school district and should not be required to put up any longer with so inferior a school building," Mr. Matheson continued.

INCREASED SALARIES

Regarding provision of administration space, workshop and storage accommodation, the board has waited to the extreme possible limit, he said. Major part of the cost of this building comes from bylaw funds and government grant, leaving only $8,771 to be provided by the district.

"Whilst generally rising costs have contributed in some measure to the increase in the board estimates, most of this increase has arisen from the rise in salaries and wages."

"In respect to teachers' salaries, an agreement was negotiated on a valley-wide level, and with other employees (exclusive of the office staff) through a labor conciliation board. Consequently, these items are not subject to control by the board or to any adjustment as a result of arbitration."

"As a matter of fact, 91.8% of the board's estimates is required to meet fixed charges as follows:

Teachers' salaries fixed by negotiation, 1951, $481,407; wages of janitors and maintenance crew fixed by union agreement, $52,500; light, power, fuel and water, $22,750; pupil conveyance, $34,600; insurance, $12,400; $3,010; W.C.B. and U.I.C., $2,400; health service, $3,400; debt service, $65,034. Total, $667,221.

POWER RATES AT PENTICTON TO BE PROBED

PENTICTON—A Vancouver electric light rate expert will be called in to study the contentious demand meter system in use here for billing electric power consumers. This was decided by City Council after hearing Alderman Wilson Hunt's report on the power rates.

Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh, who recently learned that the B.C. Electric Company Ltd., of Vancouver, would be willing to lend the city an expert to study the rates, suggested that council should take advantage of the offer and have the expert consult with members of council, the city solicitor and W. Peaker, the accountant who designed the billing system now in force.

MATTER OF INTERPRETATION
The trouble has arisen, Alderman Hunt contended, from the interpretation, rather than the letter, of the bylaw.

"Mr. Peaker and I interpreted the bylaw to read that the demand should be on a monthly basis and not an annual one," Alderman Hunt said. "Industrial users should be assessed on an annual basis but not the commercial users."

In his report the alderman said "our aim was to increase consumption without increasing the cost. We got off on the wrong foot and created a bad impression. The estimated demands are in excess of the actual demand."

"By and large the residents are getting good rates. In some cases I believe we have been selling power below cost price."

He recommended that if a class A user uses more than 150 KWH he should be placed in class B. But if the consumer uses 125 or 130 KWH and, only in one month uses 152, then he should be considered class B for one month only," he suggested.

NEW TYPE OF BILL
Alderman Hunt recommended the use of a different type of bill. He showed council a sample which, besides showing the present and previous consumptions, also showed a breakdown of amounts of power used at the different prices.

"The consumer could see what is being paid for," he said.

Concluding his report Alderman Hunt said that he believed Mr. Peaker had done all that council had asked of him in a satisfactory manner. "Theory and practice do not always agree. I strongly recommend that council immediately engage the services of an experienced rate expert to advise us on the practical application of these rates. In other words on the dollars and cents relation to the consumption. That is what the consumers want to know," he said.

COMMENDATION
Alderman W. D. Haddleton commended Alderman Hunt on his report and added, "a question of this size should not have been given to council. It should have been passed to a rate expert."

"Should we bring in an expert?" Alderman Christian asked Mr. Murphy.

"I would like to see the bylaw written so that we can understand it," replied the electrical superintendent. "I think having an expert in would be all right if it did not prove to be too expensive."

Mr. Murphy also declared, in reference to the monthly demand, that separate demand meters for all consumers would be required. "We could not afford that," he said.

Alderman Titchmarsh then told of the B.C. Electric Company's offer to send up an expert either at no cost to the city or at most for only a nominal charge plus the man's expenses, and the motion to ask for the company's assistance was made and carried.

Penticton Makes Strong Bid To Get Tourists To Visit City This Year; Drive Underway To Collect $5,000

PENTICTON—Results of the Penticton Tourist Council Association's canvass for financial support for its tourist industry promotion campaign have been "gratifying," to date, according to Frank C. Christian, spokesman for the group.

A team of over 30 hand-picked canvassers began visiting Penticton and district business establishments last week and report that the public is in general very favorably disposed towards the canvass and the support given to date has been satisfactory.

objective of at least $5,000 within a week when the majority of business will have been contacted. Letters are being prepared to send out to main offices of establishments with out-of-town headquarters to solicit their support.

Alderman Wilson Hunt will address the next meeting of the local Gyo Club and Mr. Christian will speak at the Monday meeting of the Rotary Club to explain the aims of the association and the objects of the campaign. The 100 percent support of these community organizations,

VISIT COAST
Returning from Vancouver today, Paul Aldersey, Oscar Lundgren and Keno Balla, the former a publicity expert at Banff, who is a resident of this city and who has offered his services for the promotion campaign, report that the association's advertising program was very favorably received in the coast city.

The three representatives visited Vancouver radio stations, newspapers, the Vancouver Tourist Association, the Auto Courts and Resorts Association, the AAA and the Hudson Bay Company in getting the campaign rolling at the coast.

"Everybody was enthusiastic—all we need to do is push our campaign and they are 100 percent behind us," Mr. Aldersey stated.

RADIO PROGRAM
The delegation arranged for a nine weeks radio program on Station CKWX beginning next Thursday on which Penticton's tourist attractions and facilities will be advertised and listeners will be invited to come up and spend the Easter holidays in Penticton.

The Hudson Bay Company in Vancouver has agreed the use of all its Granville street windows and its main floor for advertising display purposes during Blossom Time campaign which will begin on approximately April 21.

The tourist association is also giving consideration to the possibility of inviting up to this city two tourist advisors from the Vancouver Tourist Association Information service so that the young women will have an idea of what Penticton has to offer to the tourist and will be able to recommend this locality as a resort centre.

The association is also considering joining the Evergreen Playground Association which has member associations in Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma. Such an affiliation would definitely give a boost to the tourist industry here, as Penticton, would be the only interior centre with this valuable widespread contact.

PEACH BLOSSOMS
Arrangements are also being made to send a truckload of peach blossoms down to the coast during the "Blossom Time" campaign for display at various points throughout that city.

Mayor W. A. Rathburn, commenting on the recently organized association said:

"The association has come into being because it was felt by many of the citizens that there has been a definite need for an organized publicity campaign sponsored by a responsible local group.

"The aim of the Penticton Tourist Association is to promote Penticton as a tourist center and to provide more effective and united publicity thereby bringing more business at less cost.

"The association projects come under three main headings—advertising, entertainment and tourist facilities."

"The advertising committee of the association is arranging a comprehensive program that will publicize Penticton over radio stations in Vancouver, New Westminster, Spokane and Seattle. This program will get underway the weekend of March 28 in the form of an invitation to the public to spend their Easter week-end in Penticton. This will be followed up by a blossom campaign which will include window displays of Penticton peach blossoms in the larger Vancouver stores. This type of publicity campaign will be carried on through the medium of radio and press continuously until the late fall.

"It is the intention of the entertainment committee to ensure that the tourist receives more attention and has more to entertain him in the valley during 1952. Organized tours of orchards, points of interest, and scenic views will be arranged.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT
"The committee hopes to have some different form of entertainment for each successive week to keep the tourists' interest. This will be in the form of band concert and imported shows, and it is hoped, a square dance festival in the newly-floored arena.

"Tourist facilities include the operation of a free tourist information service in co-operation with the Board of Trade, better rest room facilities, supply of data on local events, fishing, and points of interest to the tourist, and the promotion of the Aquatic Club.

VERNON MAYOR WARNS 1952 CRISIS YEAR
VERNON—"Considerably more detail" in preliminary estimates presented by Vernon aldermen preparatory to the striking of mill rate for the City, was demanded last week by Mayor A. C. Wilder.

The mayor instructed the aldermen in charge of compiling various estimates to take their figures back and "very drastically go over them."

"There are many items in these estimates which I would like to see broken down," the mayor continued, speaking during last week's City Council estimates discussions. He took especial exception to round figures under which were bulked water, light and "sundries."

"What are sundries?" he asked. "I would like to know."

Mayor Wilder's comments followed a statement by Finance Chairman Ald. R. W. Ley that it had been finally established Vernon would suffer a reduction in its share of S.S. and M.A. tax of about $20,000.

"That item, together with our increase in school costs of $20,000, gives us a difference of some $57,000," he said.

"I just wish to mention this at this time because we are all going into estimates now, and if we are going to hold the mill-rate down anywhere near last year, it is going to call for a lot of very, very careful consideration," Ald. Ley added.

"I would also say that when our mill-rate is set, it would certainly be very necessary for our City Clerk to watch every item of expenditure."

Ald. Ley recalled that on last year's operation, some departments were "far over-expended"; a few were under-expended.

"That is something we shall have to watch this year, because we all feel it is going to be a very critical situation," he asserted.

Last year, the city budgetted for $587,000, and received $609,000.

First sod for the new $640,000, 70-bed wing for Kelowna General hospital was turned by R. P. Walrod, vice-chairman of the hospital board.

H. A. Truswell is the new president of the Kelowna Rotary Club, succeeding Dr. L. A. C. Pantou.

W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A., addressed an overflowing meeting March 2 on "Why I no longer support the Coalition Government."

Harley Vance Dawson, a well-known and respected member of the community, died March 22 at the home of relatives in Vancouver.

The Provincial Government will again be approached by the emergency advisory committee of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association for further assistance in reimbursing hundreds of growers hit hard by orchard tree losses during the severe 1949-50 winter.

Increase to $8.08 for per patient day cost and a deficit of $2,572.23 on last year's operations was revealed at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Hospital Society. During elections all three members of the board whose terms expired were returned for two-year terms. They were W. E. Adams, Miss E. Taylor and J. Whillis. Others on the board are R. P. Walrod, C. R. Bull, J. R. Beale, M.A., J.P., representing the Provincial Government, and Ald. J. Ladd, City Council representative.

Failure to come to an agreement on terms with the Kelowna Senators Hockey Association resulted in Bill MacKenzie, 1950-51 coach of the Kelowna Packers, returning to Winnipeg.

No more Japanese will be permitted to come into the Okanagan and those already here will be removed immediately the evacuation of the coastal area is completed.

The budding apple juice industry has apparently been blighted by a shortage of containers and will be forced to suspend production temporarily at least.

The gasoline and rubber shortage has developed so seriously in recent weeks that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has called a meeting of its members in the interior of B.C. so that the problem may be discussed fully with government officials.

The local labor shortage and ways and means of combatting it were discussed at length by representatives of the vegetable and fruit growers, the City Council, shippers and the industries committee of the Kelowna Board of Trade. A committee has been appointed to continue investigations.

H. J. Forbroke, of Vernon, former Kelowna resident, has been appointed Interior representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Owners of fruit trees inside the city limits will have to do their own spraying this year, City Council has ruled.

March, 1922

A sudden rise in temperature March 19 caused such snow as was still remaining to melt so rapidly that damage to the roads occurred in some districts.

At the annual meeting of the Kelowna Branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, the following were elected: A. Graves, president; S. Gray, vice-president; E. V. Burke, second vice-president; C. R. Bowen, H. R. Haug, G. Matthews, F. A. Martin, C. A. Fletcher, J. Symonds, G. W. Thomson, T. C. Black, J. T. Fisher, executive members.

At a meeting of the Amateur Sweet Pea Association it was decided after considerable discussion to hold the annual show at the home of Mrs. H. B. D. Lyons in conjunction with a garden party.

FORTY YEARS AGO

March, 1918

Top news in the Okanagan was the highly dramatic series of events which began this month with the armed robbery of the Okanagan Mission store, followed by the arrest at Penticton of a suspect, Walter B. James, said to be a deserter from an American army, who shot his guard in their cabin aboard the SS Okanagan with a small pistol he had secreted, and made his escape from the steamer at Peachland, together with a companion, who afterwards was absolved of complicity in the crime.

The two made their way north along the west side of the lake and were subsequently recaptured near Wilson Landing, due to the good work on the part of ranchers P. H. L. Seeley and R. D. Ramsay. The guard, Constable Aston, died of his wound after lingering for nine days in the Kelowna hospital. His alleged er was tried on the capital charges at the Vernon Assizes, found guilty and condemned to death. The sentence was carried out at Kamloops August 9, after a daring but futile attempt at escape by the condemned man the previous day by throwing pepper in the eyes of the death watch in his cell.

For $19,000 worth of five percent debentures, the City Council accepted an offer by Nay & James of Regina at 98.24.

Daylight saving was discussed by the Board of Trade, ending in a majority resolution favoring the CANADIAN DRESS MANUFACTURERS, stating their case at Ottawa, accused U.S. firms of "dumping" their products on the Canadian market and ask that laws be enforced to protect the Canadian textile industry, now suffering a serious slump. Investigations showed that U.S. manufacturers, were in the habit of transferring their goods to the Canadian market as soon as seasonal change made the goods unmarketable in the U.S. The government would not label the action as "dumping" which implies selling surplus goods at an unreasonably low figure to freeze out competition.

ports to the United Kingdom increased from 470 million in 1950 to 521 million in 1951. Mr. Howe expressed the opinion that it would rise by another 75 to 100 million during 1952. Most of the items exported are wheat, flour, lumber and metals.

Later on in the debate I appealed to the minister to divert some of the sterling used for these purchases to the purchase of British Columbia apples.

Mr. Howard Green, Vancouver-Quadra, asked a question in the

Under the Tower At Ottawa

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

The CCF group in the House has been criticized by members of the government for its statement regarding Canada's participation in NATO. Privately, this group has also been praised and thanked for having the courage to express its opinion regarding the conduct of the defence program under NATO. Honorable Lester Pearson claimed that the statement made by the CCF was not correct and would tend to aid and abet the enemy. Mr. Coldwell made it quite clear that the objection taken by the CCF was on the basis that the NATO program was unrealistic. Later in the week, he answered Mr. Pearson's charges by quoting papers such as the London Times, the London Economist, the Spectator and the New Statesman and Nation. All these British Conservative or independent papers agreed that the program of NATO was unrealistic and criticized the plan as unworkable.

The Times pointed out that no German divisions would be raised this year and no contribution of forces would be made by Greece and Turkey and France has been allowed to reduce her military contribution from 14 to 12. The Times goes on to say it is not easy to see how the present strength can be materially increased as Britain cannot send more divisions to Europe this year and it would be surprising indeed if the United States were to fill the gap.

It goes on to say no doubt it is necessary to plan for such an expansion but it is less obvious why it should be announced in this airy fashion. The article ends by saying perhaps it was meant to impress the European nations themselves who will thus feel that something is being done on the grand scale to justify their effort and expense. Unfortunately, it is more likely to have the direct opposite effect of creating a sense of false security and of glossing over weaknesses and omissions in the existing arrangements for defence.

Mr. Coldwell read out several similar statements from the other papers that I have mentioned, all seeking to warn the public against building too great hopes on the security that has been attained so far.

However, there are others in the House who take an opposite view and would place unlimited funds at the disposal of NATO without any accounting to Parliament for the expenditure. Mr. Coldwell feels that if we are to defend or contain Communism in Europe, we must exert greater efforts in diverting more of NATO's funds to raise the standards of living among the haven nations of Europe. We are to have a full-dress debate on this subject in the near future and I will deal with it further at a later date.

The Speech from the Throne was finally accepted and the debate thereon finished this week, which is a little more than half the period taken up last year by the same Speech. This will leave us free to deal with other problems such as unemployment and international trade that are causing us a great deal of worry at the present time. Mr. C. D. Howe gave us a very prescient report of the work carried out by defence industries during the last four years. He also dealt with international trade and the closing down of markets for Canadian goods in the sterling area. He referred to this as very unfortunate. The Canadian trade with the United Kingdom will actually increase in total although some producers and manufacturers will feel the pinch. I presume this applies to British Columbia fruit. Our ex-

DEVELOPMENT OF B.C. TRACED BY W. SHILVOCK

"What Goes on in British Columbia" was the apt title of an address given by W. Shillock to the Gyro Club last week. Mr. Shillock outlined the developments taking place in the various sections of the province and wrapped them into one complete picture.

The speaker maintained that the next ten years will completely change the whole economic picture of this province and that this development would only be the start of even greater things to come.

He traced the present development from Klutamat to agriculture and lumber at Prince George on the north to lumber and paper on Vancouver Island to redevelopment of Kootenay mining. Members agreed it was the most comprehensive report of today's economic developments that they had heard.

A guest of the club at the meeting was Ralph de Pytifer, who recently won the Canadian junior skiing championship. He was complimented on behalf of the club by the president and in a neat speech he replied that any success he had had was due to the efforts of his father who had pioneered the Kelowna Ski Bowl and during the war had kept the local club alive.

House whether Canada Limited intended to construct a plant in British Columbia. I was interested in the answer as a similar rumor had been floating around Penticton last summer. The Honorable C. D. Howe said he knew of no plans Canada for building on the West Coast.

The committee to deal with war veterans allowances has not yet been set up but it has been promised that such a committee will function according to a statement in the Throne Speech. As there are 1,770 widows, four orphans and 147 dependents, the finding of this Committee will have a marked effect on the lives and economy of these nine thousand odd people in our province.

It is interesting to note that there are still 862 veterans of the First War who are still in debt to the soldier settlement board to the amount of $850,725.33. Efforts have been made to have the government wipe out these debts as in most cases the original sum has been paid once or twice and the balance accumulated interest and penalties. However, the government has not foreclosed on any of these properties and has given substantial decreases or rebates on the balances owing.

Middleton Scoring Ace In Savage Cup Final Series

Scoring nearly half of Kelowna's goals, Jim Middleton was the sniping star of the B.C. senior hockey final series concluded on Saturday with Trail winning out two victories to one, with two games tied.

If the goal judges had sore arms, Middleton could be blamed for it more often than anyone else as he clicked for seven of Kelowna's 16 goals. With an assist as well, Middleton completed the five-game series with eight points, good enough for the top spot in the scoring parade, shared with lanky Bob Wiest, Smoke centerman, Wiest, who missed one game due to the flu, had two goals and six helpers.

Ken Cook, taken off the spare list to replace the injured John Rypley, paced the Trail goal-getters with four goals, while Mike Shabaga each got three.

Phil Hergeshelmer and Mike Durban, both tied in the Kelowna-Nanaimo series, ended that way again in the Packers' final playoff outing. Phantom Phil had three goals and two assists while Durban had two and three.

Picking up 14 minutes in penalties in the final game, Durban boosted his total for the series to 16 minutes, four minutes more than runner-up Bobo Carlson. Kelowna had a total of 54 minutes in penalties; Trail had 46 minutes.

At the end of the series, Kelowna Packers had played 17 Allan Cup playoff games, winning 10, losing five and tying two. Trail's record was 10 starts, five wins, three losses and two ties.

McMeekin had 20 goals scored against him compared with 16 for Sofiak.

Packers started on the playoff trail February 18, reaching the end March 22 and clipping along at a game almost every two nights.

Here are the statistics for the Kelowna-Trail series as prepared by the Courier:

RESULTS OF GAMES

March 15—Trail 5, Kelowna 2.
March 17—Kelowna 3, Trail 1.
March 19—Kelowna 4, Trail 1.
March 21—Trail 4, Kelowna 4.
March 22—Trail 7, Kelowna 3.

Experience, Savvy Made The Difference

Up in Roseland or over in Nelson where any love for Trail is as hard to locate as a sneeze in a sleeping car, the people say they "hate Trail's guts." Good or bad, it's at least an admission that Trail has some. This instinctual fortitude carried them through to the home stretch, neck-and-neck with the Kelowna Packers but it was more than that that made the difference in the final stand.

Most of all it was experience and know-how; experience that gets a fellow to hold up better under the strain of crucial combat and teaches him to relax and rest before going out into battle; know-how in making every action count as if it was going to be the last one in the game and in spotting breaks like a hawk watching for a movement in the grass and then swooping down to make the kill.

Those are the attributes besides guts that made the difference in the fifth and final game. Packers had probably more guts and certainly had youth, hustle and team-spirit in their favor, but when the going got toughest and more precarious by the moment it was the steadiness learned in similar situations over the past few years that tipped the scales in favor of the Smoke Eaters.

But the gameness and spunk of the Kelowna club inflamed the people of this district, and series after series the Packers became almost a part of the life of an ever-widening area. No wonder then that such an amazing demonstration of appreciation and goodwill should greet the Packers upon their return from the Silver City.

NOTHING LIKE IT

Phil Hergeshelmer, like his wife, so overwhelmed as to be at an all-time low for words, said he had never seen anything like it. Perhaps in the back of his mind he might have thought such a tumultuous welcome might be a common thing in the Okanagan (he might have thought this if he could forget the starvation days in January and February) but it isn't. For the success the Packers attained there never was such a spontaneous outburst anywhere in the valley before, or perhaps in the whole of B.C.

Such a colossal homecoming for Kelowna's hockey heroes surprised hundreds of persons with its magnitude, including this scribe. It was all the more stupendous because it was practically ad libbed, with hardly any time at all for advance preparations. Imagine what a whoop-de-doo it might have been with a couple of days to work on it.

Hergeshelmer and his boys must know now that they are appreciated and that the courage and fortitude of the 1951-52 squad that carried the Orchard City colors right up to the threshold of the B.C. title will not be forgotten easily. And those who think they might do better elsewhere should consider again the heroes' welcome they got and ask themselves where else could they find a warmer, more friendly and more grateful following.

BASEBALL BOOMS AT VERNON NOW; FIELD 2 ENTRIES

Sunday's proposed meeting at Salmon Arm, of the B.C. Interior Baseball League was postponed.

Four of last year's clubs have not yet held their annual meetings and were not in a position to commit themselves. Four definite entries so far are Kamloops Okonots, last year's playoff winners; Revelstoke Spikes, who finished atop the league standings; Rutland Adanacs, fourth placers who made the playoff final, and a new entry from Vernon.

The Vernon squad will be in addition to the one entered in the Okanagan-Mainline circuit.

Clubs still to hear from are Salmon Arm, Kamloops CYO, Winfield and Peachland. The postponed meeting now will be held April 6 in the Salmar Theatre, Salmon Arm, at 2:30 p.m.
